

1971

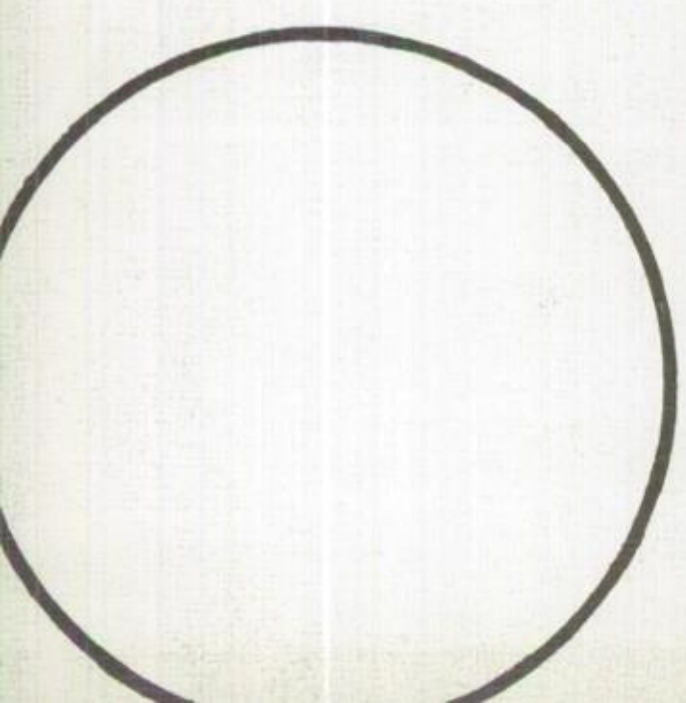

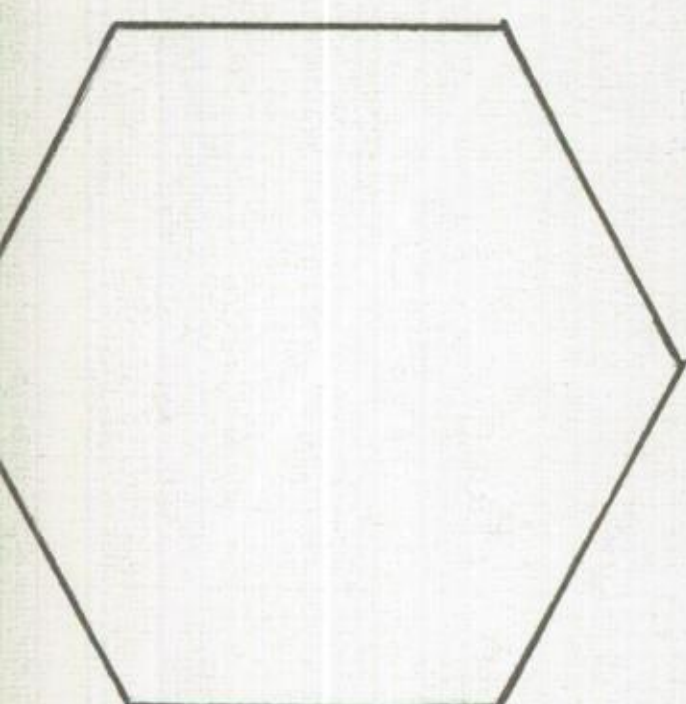

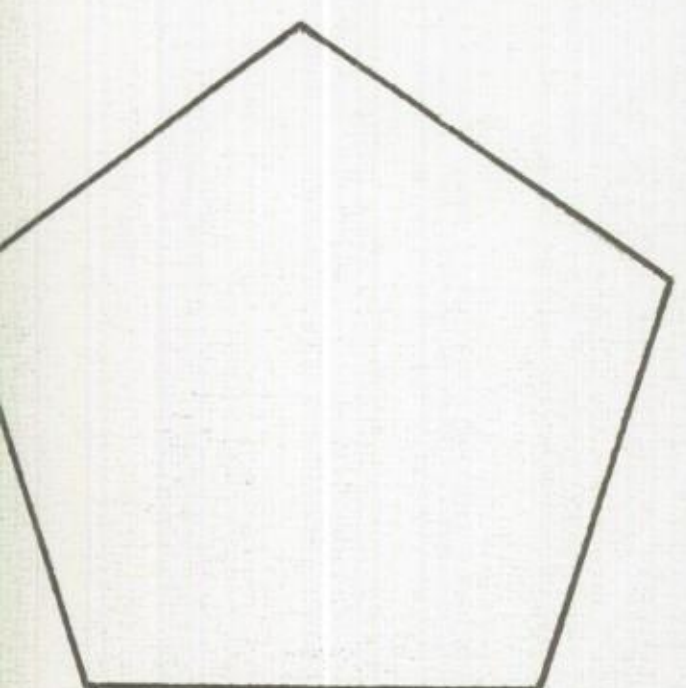

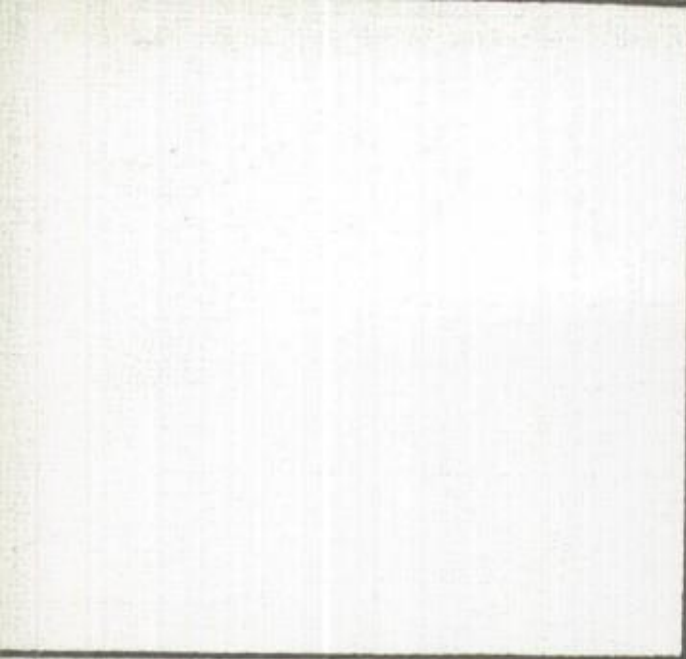

For some of us, it will be hard to realize that we no longer go to the Prep. For four years of our lives, we have been exposed to the opportunity to use our minds — to learn — to create.

"The Prep will be what you make of it." We were told this the first day. Now, we observe what we have made of it, for now it is over. For those of us who have cared enough to give of ourselves, to belong to the Prep, the transition will be difficult.

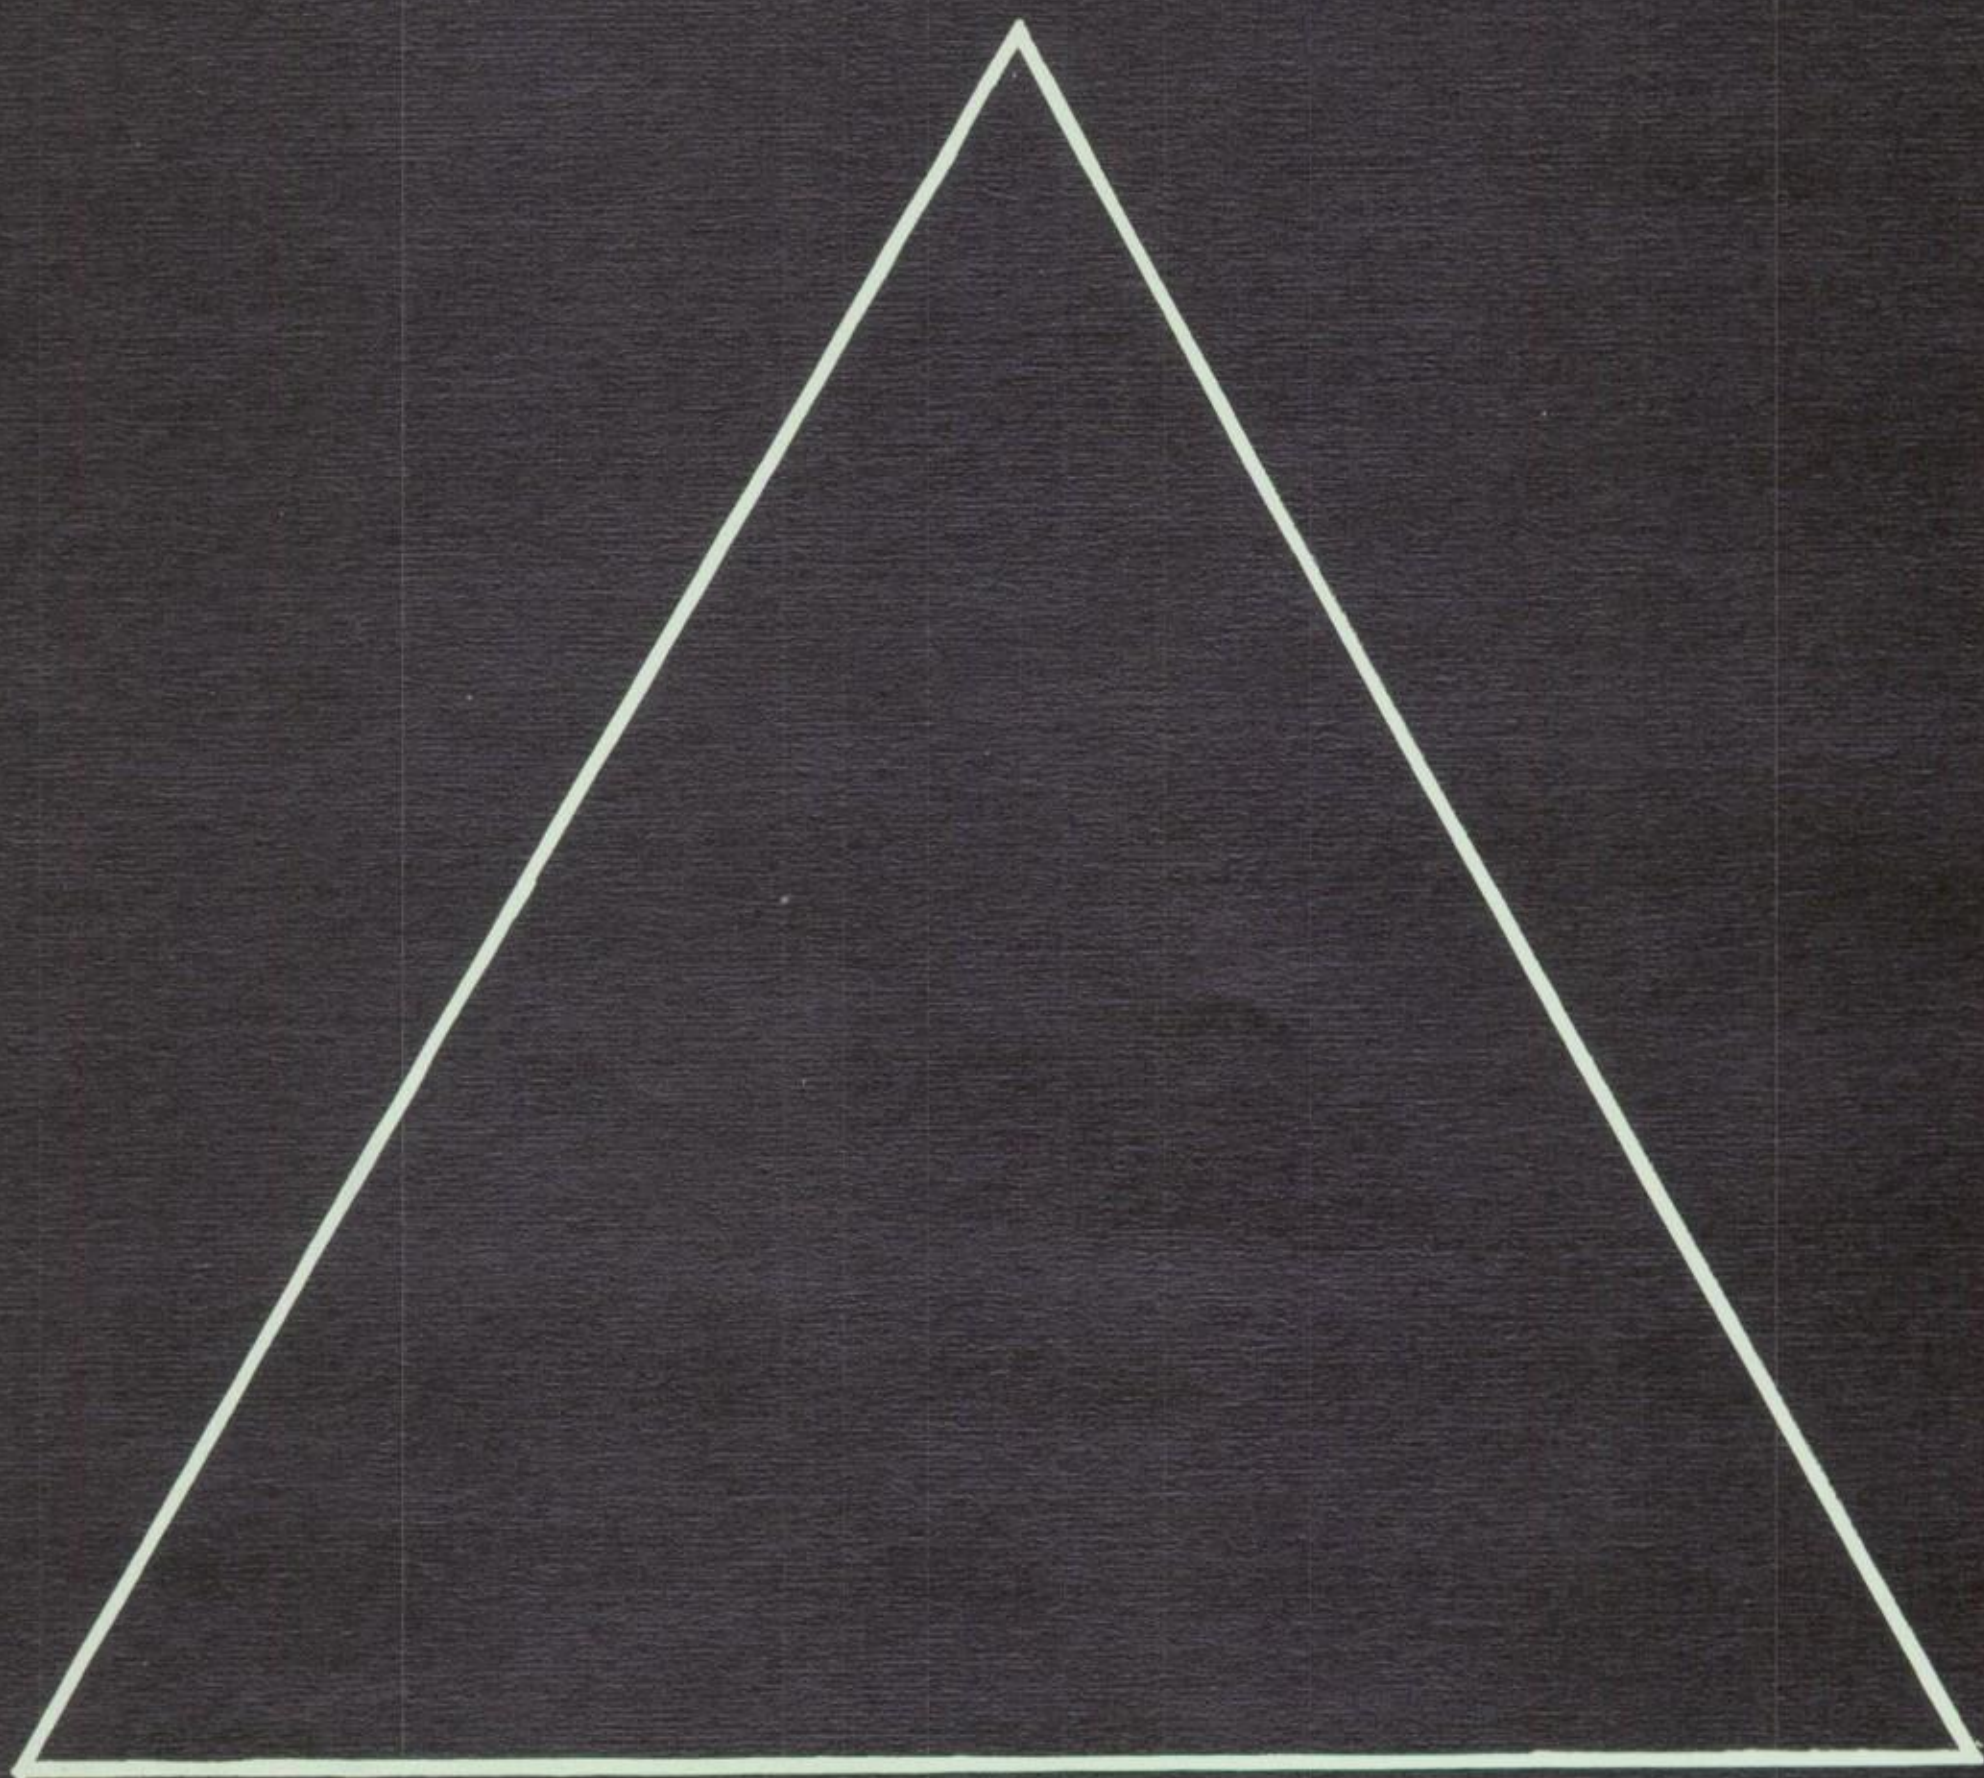

This is our book, our story of the four years that have helped make us what we are. We will look back time and again, perhaps sadly, but always with the sincere hope that all life will mean as much to us as did the Prep . . .

In choosing someone to whom we would dedicate our year-book, we sought someone whose dedication to his field, whose sense of logic and organization would be an inspiration to all of our community. We did not have to look very far, for such a man is our own Father Stephen Garber.

Father Garber arrived here at the Prep in 1960, and is presently head of our Science Department. Despite the challenges of this position, in addition to those of doing independent chemical research, he finds time to act as Captain of The Heart Fund Association in Philadelphia, and as a Red Cross Representative. A member of the Executive Board of the Philadelphia Science Teachers' Association, Father Garber is also an examiner for the advanced placement exams for the College Entrance Examination Board. In supplement to receiving the "Benjamin Rush Chemistry Award" in 1970, he has also been chosen "Outstanding Science Teacher" in Pennsylvania — and quite deservedly so (as anyone who has worked his way through the famous Father Garber Lab Manual will attest to). Awarded to him, also, are grants from both the Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania, and the American Chemical Society.

These and many more accomplishments, are not the sole reason for our admiration of Father Garber. Even those of us who are less well informed of his achievements are able to recognize the man's love for his work. (Perhaps this recognition comes the first time we hear him explain the Kinetic Theory as though he himself had written it.) We realize the presence of a man who has used his talents selflessly, and who has dedicated his life to those around him. Thus, to Father Stephen Garber, we dedicate this book.

OUR MOTHERS

One of the quietest and most active groups that plays a major role at St. Joseph's Prep is our Mothers' Club. Away from the academic and social din that fills Prep halls, the Mothers work behind the scenes arranging some of the school's major social functions.

It is they who each year run the Homecoming and sponsor the fashion show. Proceeds from these go to our scholarship fund. And it is they who, in their interest in the academics, arrange the Mother-Teacher meetings.

"Women's Lib" hasn't affected them because they are always there quietly helping. Their time and energy becomes ours.

"Would you mind getting off my foot?"

"What I want to know is how you got it up the stairs."

FATHER'S CLUB

Just as the strength of every building lies in its foundation, a great part of the student body's strength lies in the Father's Club, however unpretentious their foundation may be. Upon investigation, the Father's Club lies behind a lot of school activities, its generosity enabling school functions to proceed in an admirable fashion. Besides the very obvious prestige surrounding members of this organization, every father can justly and proudly say that he is the bracing force behind the true prepper.

ALUMNI

Under the direction of Father Charles A. Schnorr, moderator, the Alumni has become an integral part of St. Joseph's Prep. Activities sponsored by the alumni include the yearly telephone campaign, the annual Communion Breakfast and the Alumni Association meetings. Their "Alumni News" keeps all members posted on matters of interest to all.

Both officers and class representatives give unsparingly of time and energy in the attempt to keep "the Prep" tradition strong.

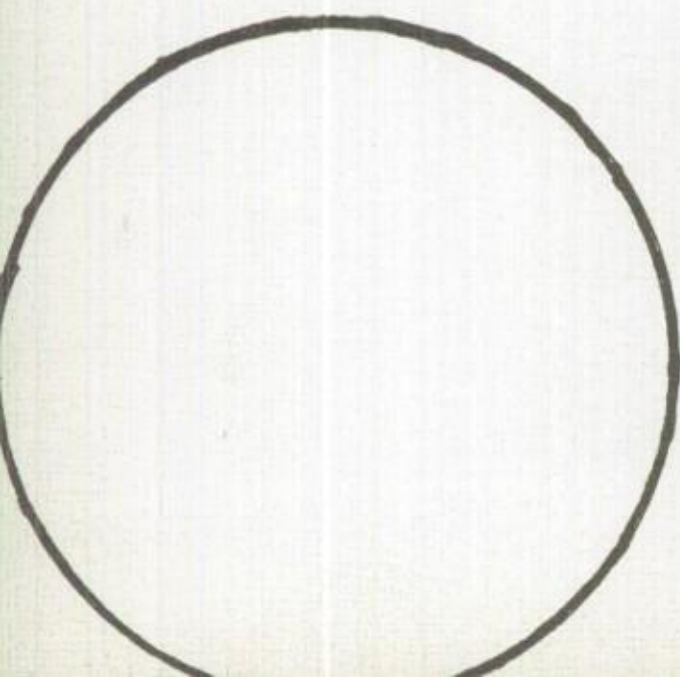

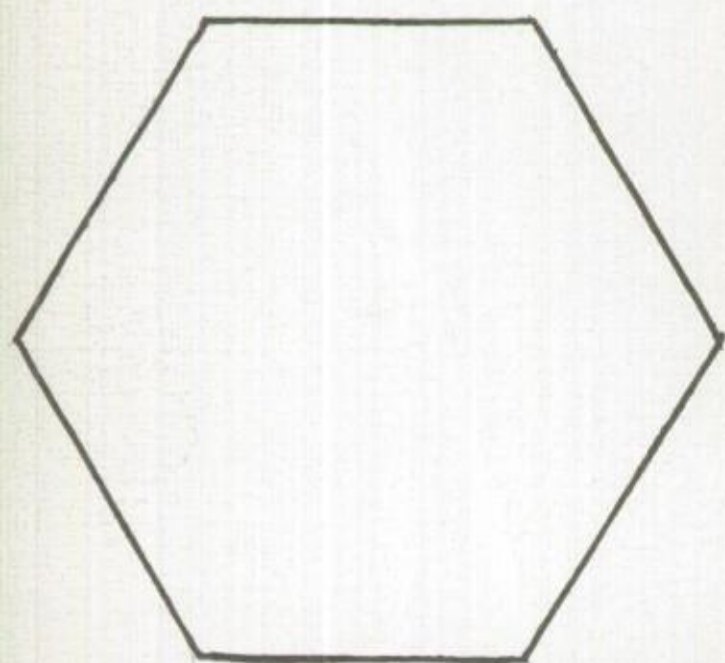

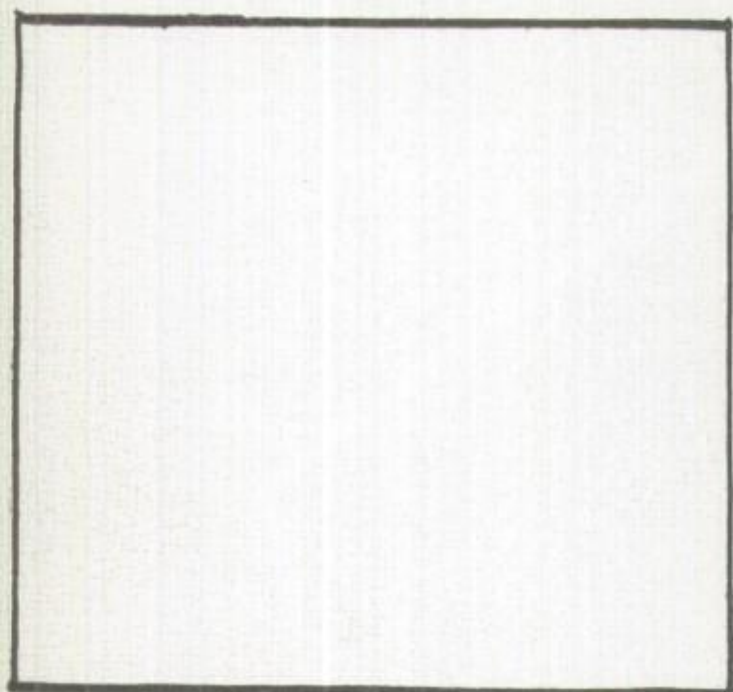

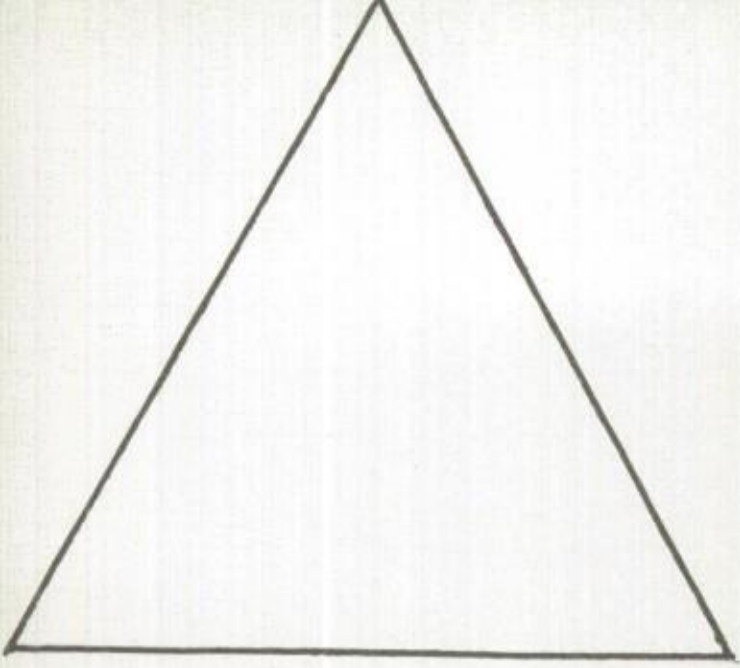

We acknowledge and thank our Alumni for their continued support and loyalty and look forward to the honor of joining them in the ranks of St. Joseph's Prep Alumni.

STUDENT COUNCIL

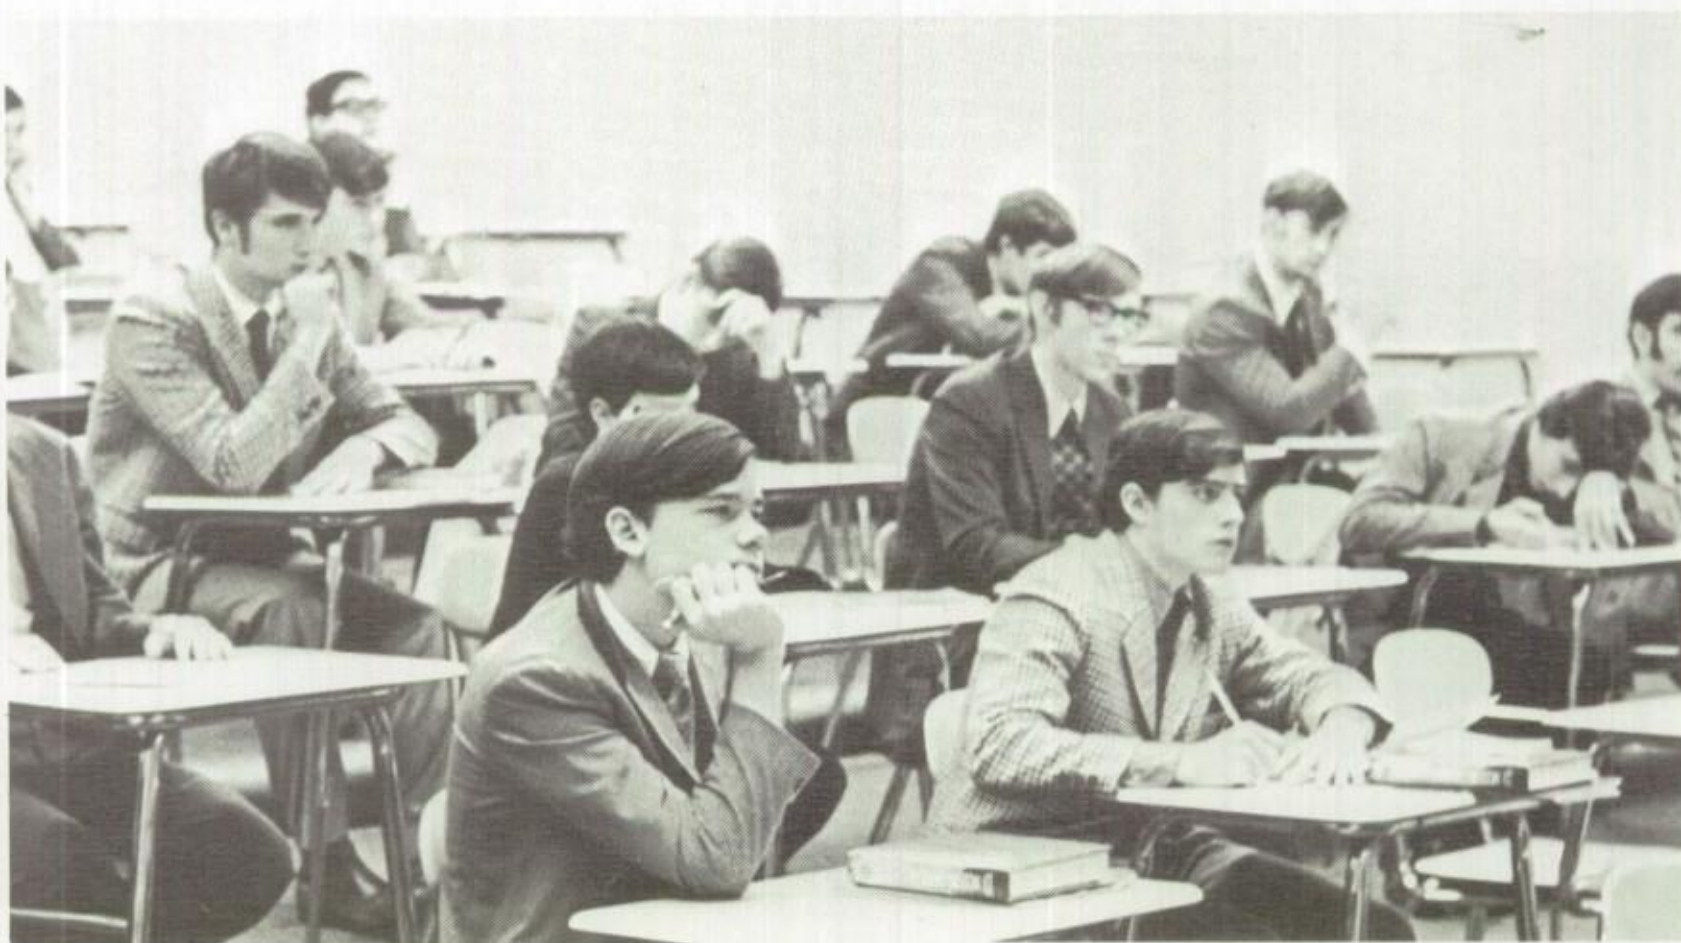

Executive Board: Dick Harrington, Chris Tretta, Ron Pilot, Ron Slanga, Tom Gregory, Jim Mergiotti, absent — Jim Allen.

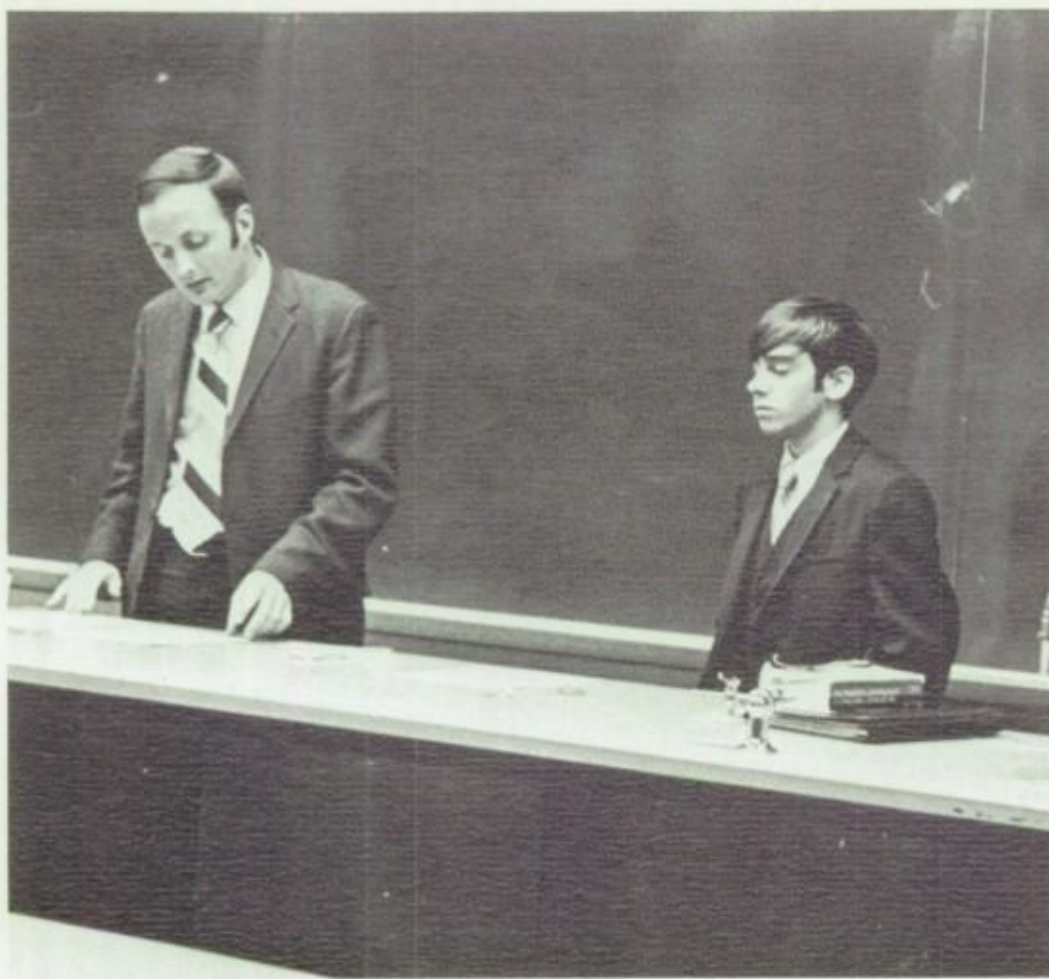

"We'll do more than any other council." That was the battle cry during the campaign last April. For once it held true, Very True!!! Chris Tretta's council not only finished what other councils had begun, but accomplished many original feats. Riding with Chris' wagon train was a conscientious executive board, a diligent group of sub-committee heads, and most of all an outspoken student representative body. After being divided into two major committees, (Social & Communications) and several sub-committees, the council held more social events than ever before, handed out monthly calendars, changed the unsuccessful Student-Faculty Forum into the successful Mini-Forum, established the "Future Teachers Association", handled the Senior Lounge supervision, and financed Boosters. If I said that this year's Student Council did more than last year's, I meant to say that it did more than the last ten years'.

YABBA DABBA DO!!

In this time of social problems and controversy, the students of the Prep do their part to aid society through their work in the Community Action Program.

Every year the membership in the C.A.P. rises, and this year was no exception to the rule. More than 15 per cent of the student body was involved in 9 individual projects, ranging from hospital volunteer work to helping retarded children, to tutorial work. Special projects have also been undertaken; such as the Christmas Food Program, and organization of the March to End Gang Violence.

The "CAP" is directed by Mr. Thomas "Ace" McCann and Fr. Taggart, who along with student directors Tom Gregory and Joe Reilly, seek to offer the student an opportunity to better himself by helping to better his community.

"How did you do that?"

"Did he say what I thought he said?"

"Keep your hands to yourself!"

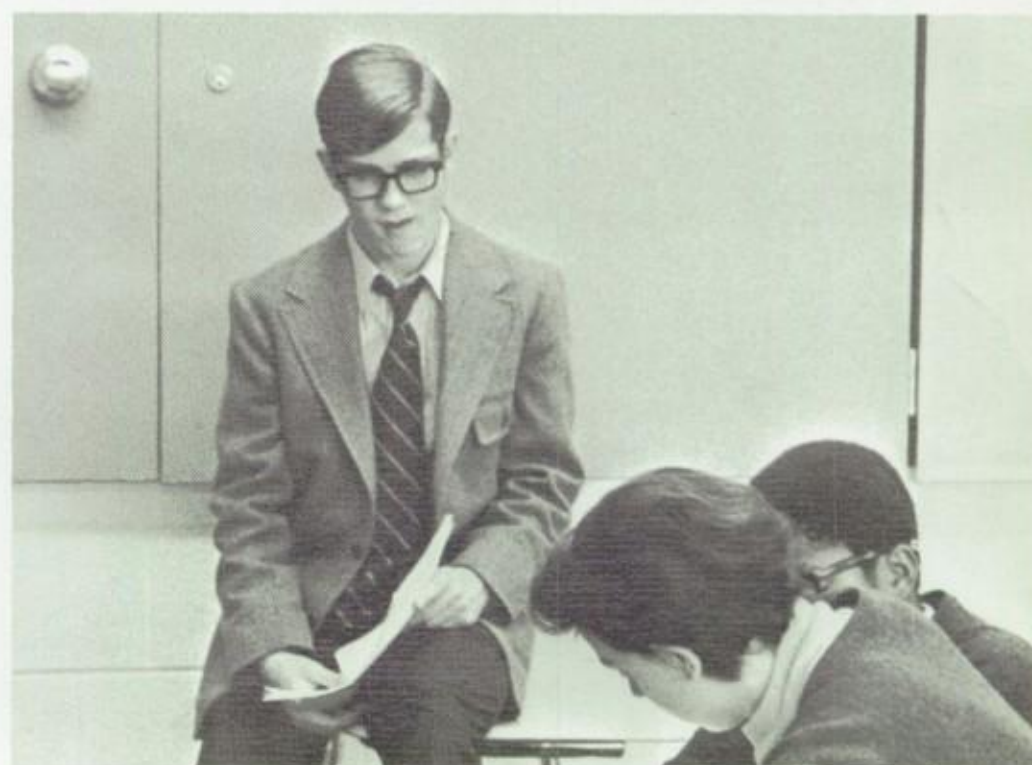

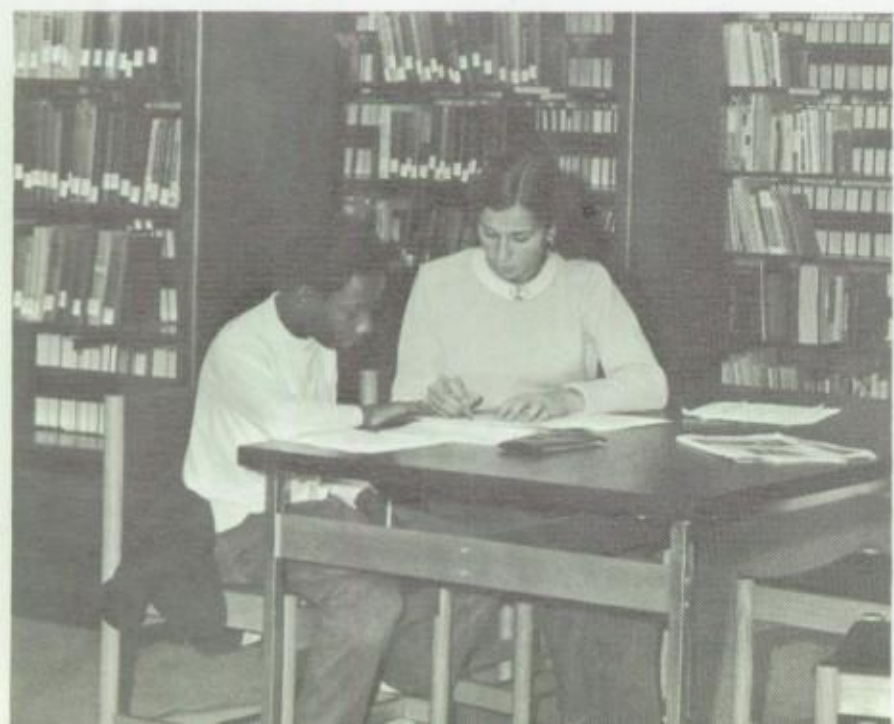

"How can I teach what I didn't learn?"

BOOSTERS

How does a school get a Boosters Committee which generates more spirit than that of a Super Bowl Championship? You give them the best finances and guidance a Student Council can donate. You place it under the command of two generals like Jerry Seeber and Stitch Reilly. You employ, under them, the most aristic crew of "Slogan slingers" ever assembled. These ingredients combined with an unexcelled sense of humor, gave the 1970-71 Boosters the ability to not only inform but to keep interested every student as no group has ever before done.

HAWKLET

The Hawklet spent the first semester in a state somewhere between dubious existence and ethereal fantasy. This condition was due mainly to financial difficulties. However, corresponding to the new year, the Hawklet staff turned over a new leaf, and after scraping off the barnacles, sailed on to the saucy seas of deadbeat comedy and plagiaristic garbage.

Working closely with the Yearbook Staff, the Photo Club has sought to capture and contain Prep life. Ranging from the paramount of dignity to the nadir of absurdity, their subjects have represented every aspect of our daily existence. Late supplies, broken cameras and various other plagues have been far from encouraging to their lot, but displaying true Prep spirit, the Photo Club has once again come through.

Today is yesterday's tomorrow, and today will be tomorrow's yesterday. Time is relative, and our time at the Prep is almost over. This book will soon bring back memories which are now reality. Our job has not been easy, and after overcoming insurmountable obstacles, we observe what we have done — and are proud to have left our mark in such an important part of our past.

FORENSICS

Clear articulation, self-confidence, perceptive research, social ease — such are the goals of the 40 students in Forensics, the speech and debating activity at the Prep.

With Mr. Edward T. O'Donnell, S. J. as moderator, students from all years have won many awards in the local and state leagues, and have qualified for the National Finals in New Orleans, as the culmination of a successful year.

Sometime around mid-autumn the rumors began to circulate that the school production this year was going to be a musical. Yep, that's right, a musical. It was beyond the recollection of any of the students (and some of the faculty) when the Prep last performed a musical. Many were anxious, and some skeptical of the Cape and Sword Company's capability to execute such an ambitious venture. But under the guidance of Fr. Domenic Teti, S.J., the director, and Brother Richard Curry, S.J., the Prep's Theatre Arts instructor, all things proved to be possible.

Competition at the auditions was keen. Much heretofore unknown talent (musical and otherwise) was discovered. Comments ranged from, "I never knew he could sing!" and "@*!" to "But he doesn't even look Puerto Rican!" Soon, the Prep Theatre began to ring with the notes of Bernstein's beautiful melodies, and the stage fever was catching. It was enough to see the sheepish look on the face of the stage hand caught in the act of singing "Maria" to himself in the men's room mirror.

"Rita Moreno and Natalie Wood never played it better."

"I Maria, take thee Anton."

"Maria and Anita embrace at a joyous moment."

"The best scene of them all."

"GET him Bernardo."

"I like to be in America."

"You hoodlums don't own the streets."

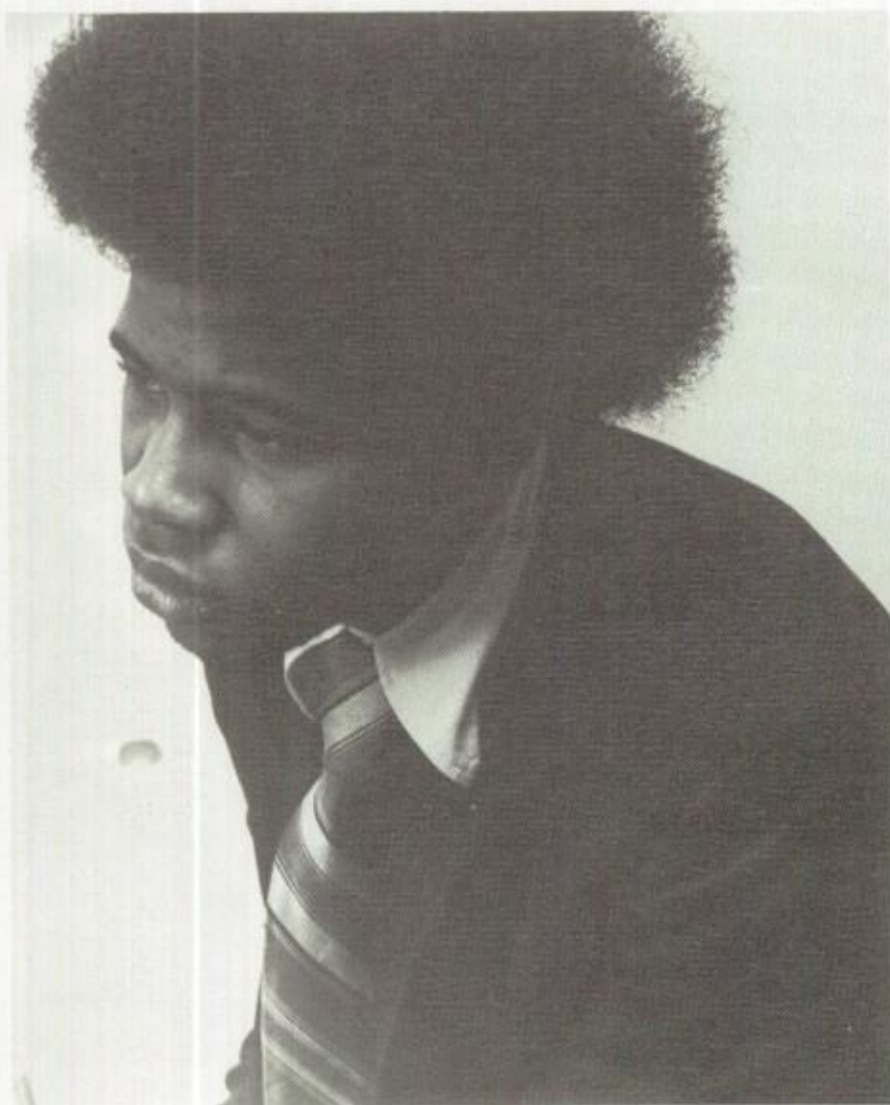

"Oh, I get it, we make like birds and fly away."

The Black Students' League, started under the auspices of Rev. William Watters, S.J., has been in existence for approximately three years. Initially, the League was simply a reaction to the changing scene in American life patterns. However, its goals and directions are being revised in order to contribute more to the growth of the Prep.

The essential purpose is to aid Black students in adjusting to the Prep's academic curriculum and social life. There are two other major areas the League will seek to work with in the future. One is the neighborhood party during Christmas to foster better relationships with the neighborhood children. The Black Students League also wishes to attempt to clarify the causes of racial conflict and to expel myths.

As the Prep's football campaign began in early September, both the team and its fans took heart. With a completely new coaching staff headed by Mr. Pellegrini, Prep fans expected an exciting group of gridders. And excitement there was. The explosive running attack was aimed at exploiting the outside bursts of Andy Gordon and Bill Barretta and the inside blasts of Lou Pedrotty. Tom Gargan's main passing target was Bob Sokolowski, but occasional screen passes proved to be long gainers. The offensive line was small in size but immense in desire. The hard hitting of Tom Vecchione, Bruce Makaus and Bob Brett opened the hole for the running game and provided protection for the aerial attack.

The defense was consistently effective as it racked up four shutouts. Thanks to such stalwarts as Jack Brewster, Chip Strowhouer, Bill Martin and Joe Bodalski, the enemy could barely muster an attack. Mike Schuster, Mike Whitlock and Mike Welsh hauled in interceptions for the secondary.

The season started slowly, but the Prep refused to despair. Great success came in the second half of the season to a team of which the Prep is truly proud.

Basketball 1970-71

After last year's graduation, many people were pessimistic about the Prep's basketball team. With only one returning starter, the team lacked valuable experience. Mr. Burke geared the offense for two veterans, Maurice Howard and captain Bill Truskey. This was an attempt to exploit Truskey's inside power and Howard's all-around finesse. Nevertheless, Paul Opila and Phil Martelli were outside threats and Tim Collins crashed the boards for tight baskets. Depth was a big factor in the team's success. Gene McCarron often came off the bench to ignite the rally. Dave Tague and Dave Glielmi performed well up while Brian Kennedy and Jim Walsh could be counted on in clutch situations.

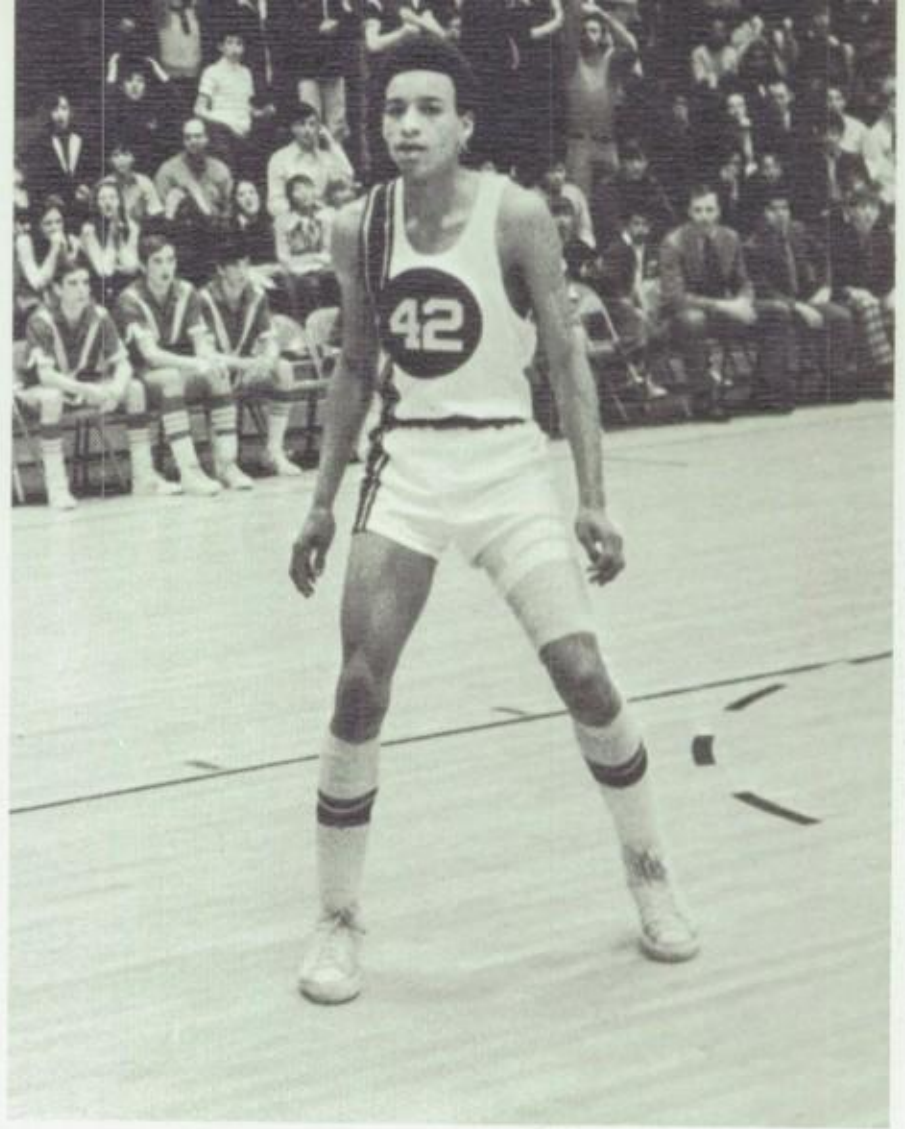

The Prep dropped its first three games, but not its confidence. After thumping Edison, The Hawklets opened the league by trouncing St. James. Neumann fell in double overtime and Roman upset as the Prep kept its composure in the clutch. Then the Prep travelled to Richmond, Va. and won the Benedictine Capital City Classic. The Prep featured balanced scoring, and Howard captured the MVP Award. Then the Hawklets burned Bonner and Nipped Carroll. Tommy More was styled by a triangle and-two defense as Opila and Martelli handled the guards. The Prep lost at West and ended a ten-game winning streak. However, that winning streak gave the team the impetus to drive for the Palestra and an outstanding season.

With the thawing of winter and the advent of sunny Spring, the Prep's Baseball team emerges each year from its hibernation. Although recognized as the most unglorified high school sport, baseball continues to attract many students at the Prep.

CROSS COUNTRY HARRIERS

Cross Country:

Led this year by seniors, as well as by underclassmen, the Prep Cross Country Team gave retiring coach Ted Kovatis a season to be remembered. The practices, directed by assistant coach Larry Simmons, were exhausting and endless, but they molded the team into a solid running unit. Victories over St. Thomas More, and a sweep of races against Egan, Kenrick, and Neumann were results of hard training and a new outlook. The team was led by Frank McGuire, the number one man all year, and by such runners as Joe McIlhinney, Curt Cockenbergh, Bob Kelly, Dan Comly, and Jim Redditt. Others who provided a big boost in running talent included Don Pellegrino, Tony Farrell, Dan

Brannan, Al Zimmerman, Kevin Gallagher, Tim Chelius, and Rich Battaglini. Special mention should be given to John Swope, the team manager, and Bob Nesbitt, track standout from West Philadelphia High, for their invaluable assistance. Although the seniors are leaving the team, many of the harriers will be returning, and a fine team is expected next year.

The 1970-71 school year has witnessed many new changes at the Prep, not the least of which is this year's Track Team. Under the direction of head coach Larry Simmons, the team has set high goals. If indoor season is any indication of the team's progress, the Prep poses a threat to any team aspiring for a Catholic League Crown. Mr. Simmons (a former M.A.C. champ and the current long distance chairman of the Middle Atlantic A.A.U.) has contributed his great track experience and knowledge to bring the team along. Seniors Frank Burns, Bob Kelly, Curtis Cockenberg, Brian Breslin, Tim Klarich, Don Pellegrino, and John Salvucci lead the team in this year of innovation in Prep Track.

Despite injuries to key performers Jim Allen and Mark Fisher, the team rallied around senior sensations Don Garden-er (DUCK) Jerry O'Leary and Captain Moe Gallagher to enable them to continue the incredible record of past years. — And as usual, the team has a perfect record in dual meet competition.

"Okay Fallon, you can get out of the inner tube now."

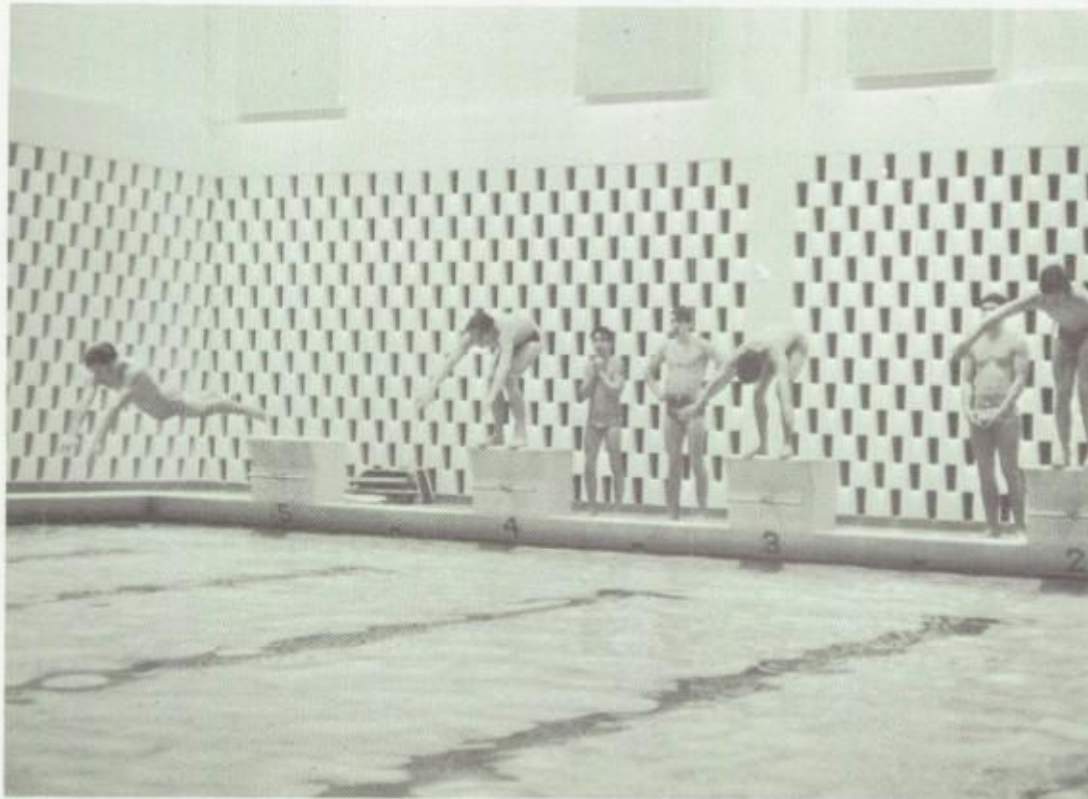

Coach Wigo raps with Tom Dowd, Herry Demuro, and Jerry O'Leary.

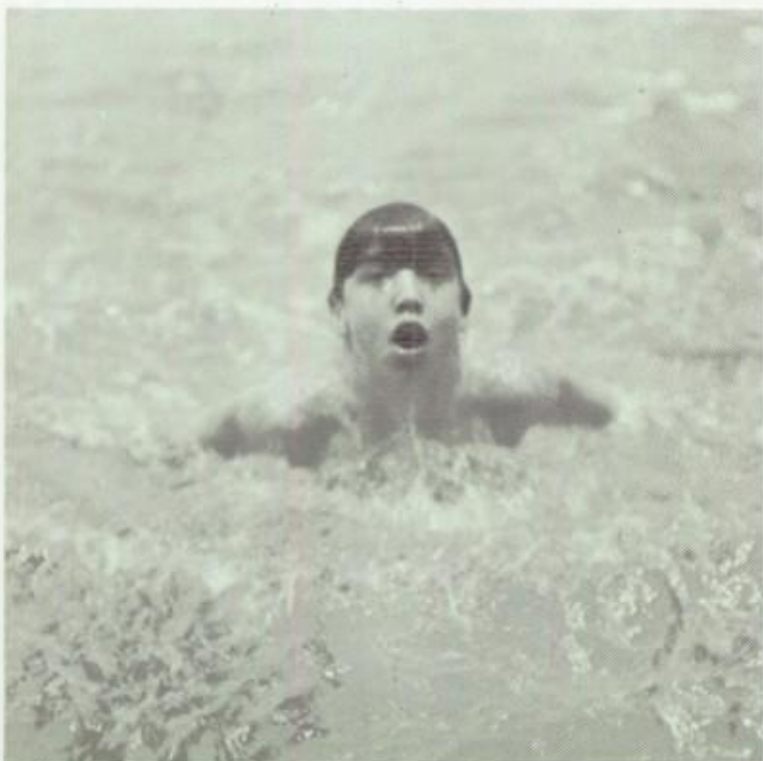

"Who put the shark in the pool?"

"You know what they say about Harrington; 'Monkey see monkey do.'"

"All right, everybody stop where you are!"

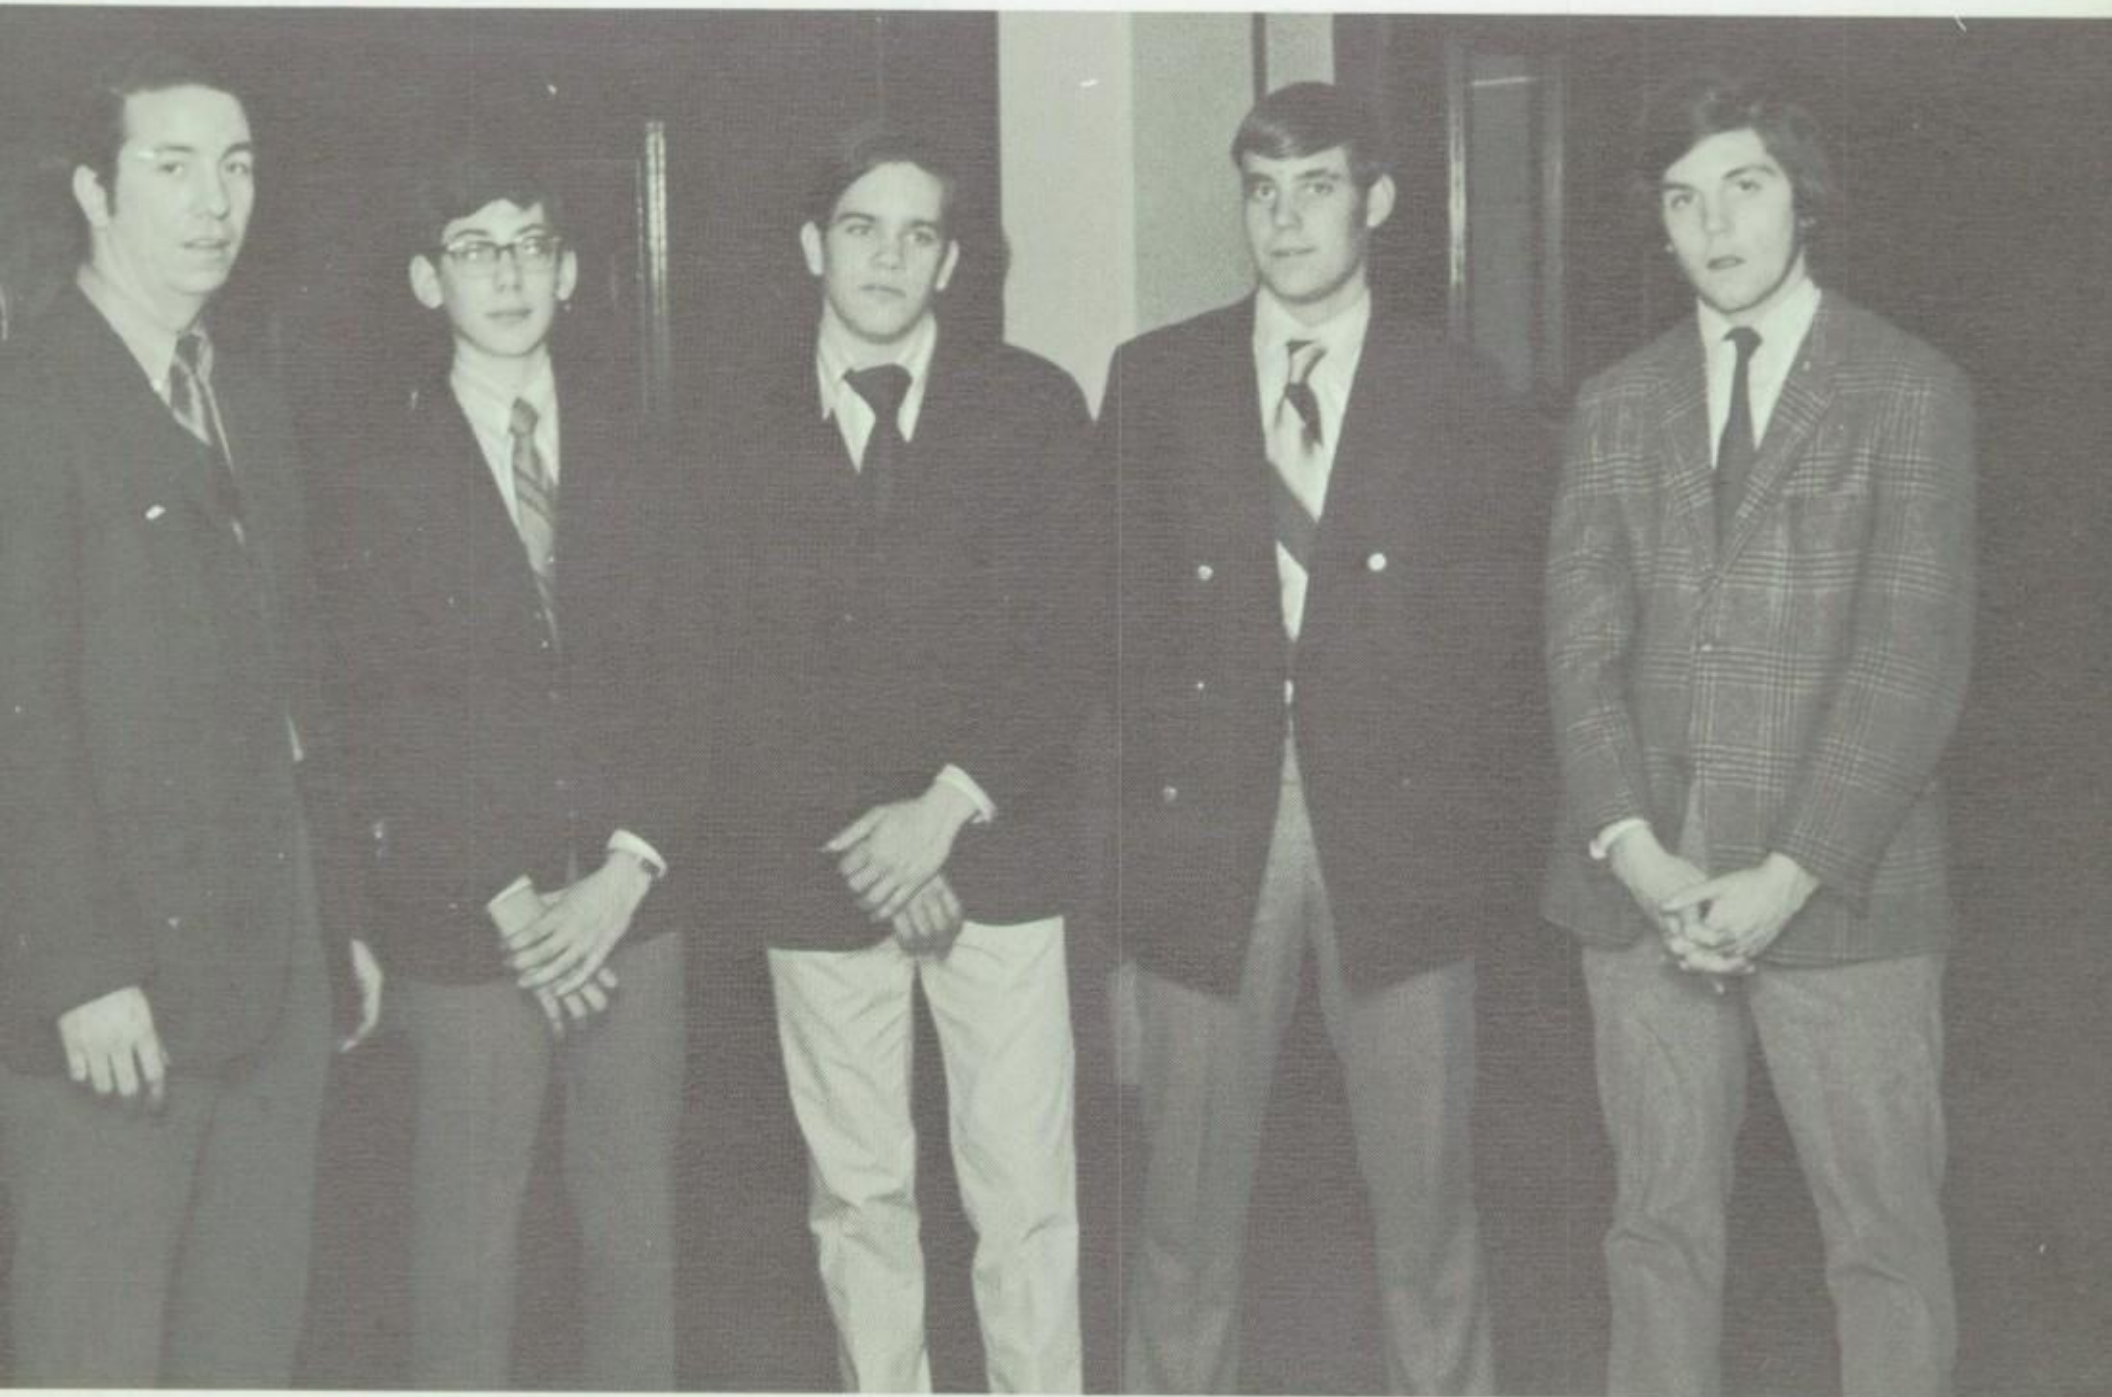

"Hey guys, O'Leary says I'm a Tuna with good taste."

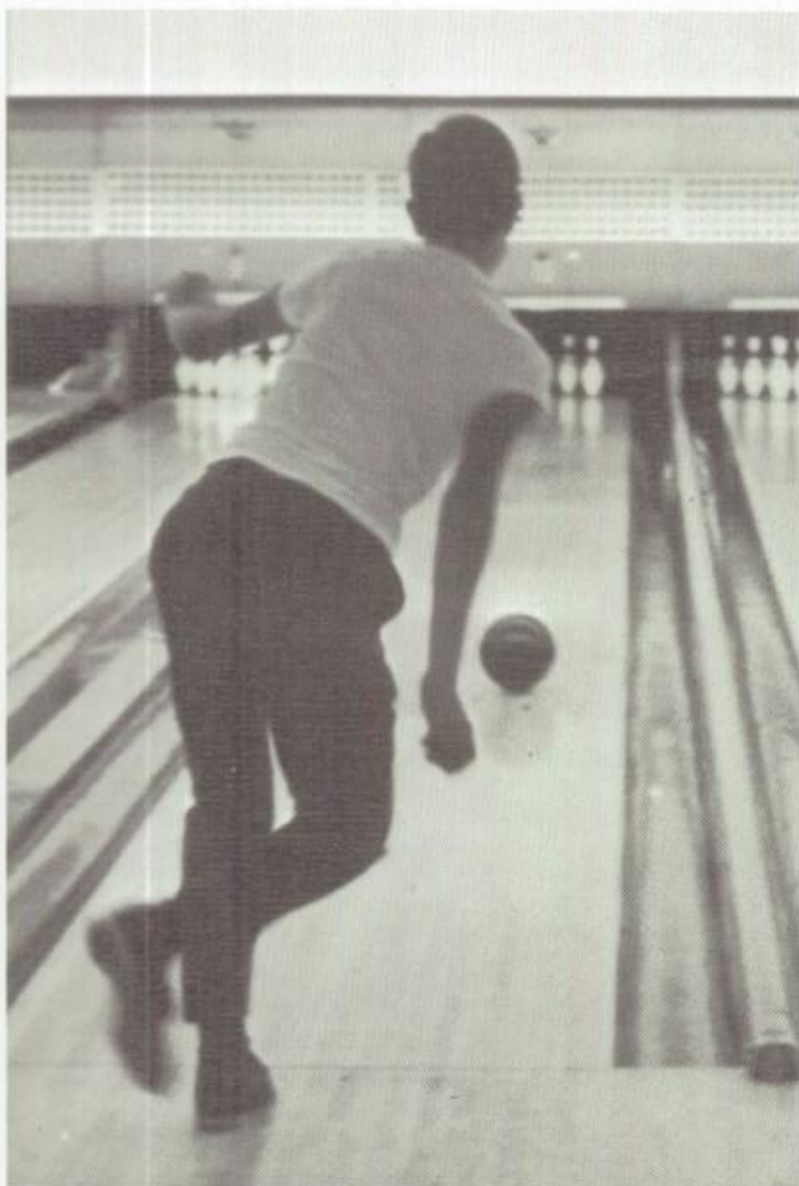

"J. O'Leary strokes to victory."

GOLF TEAM

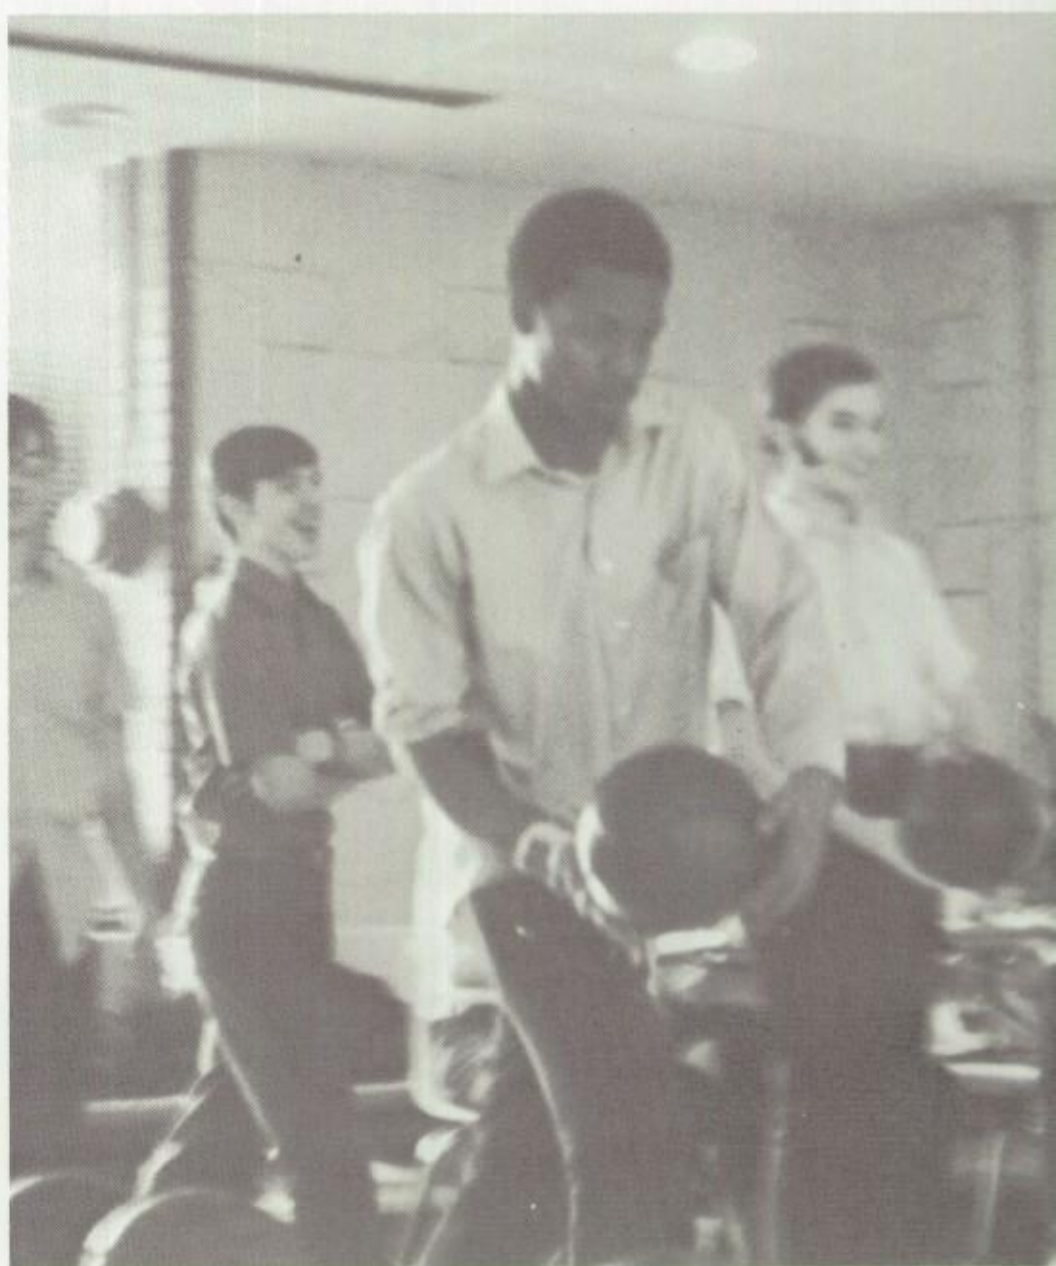

Bob King displays his winning technique.

Bowling

The Bowling Team this year at the Prep, under coach John Dugan, has finally come into its own. After many years of disappointment, this year's team compiled a 14-7 record at the completion of the first half of the season. At this writing the record reads 20-13, and places them only three games out of first. The team is led by seniors John Connor, Al Damico, Ralph Menzano, Joe Ricciardi, and Vince Sansone. Two Juniors, Tom Ballezzi, and Mike Toner, have also contributed greatly to the cause.

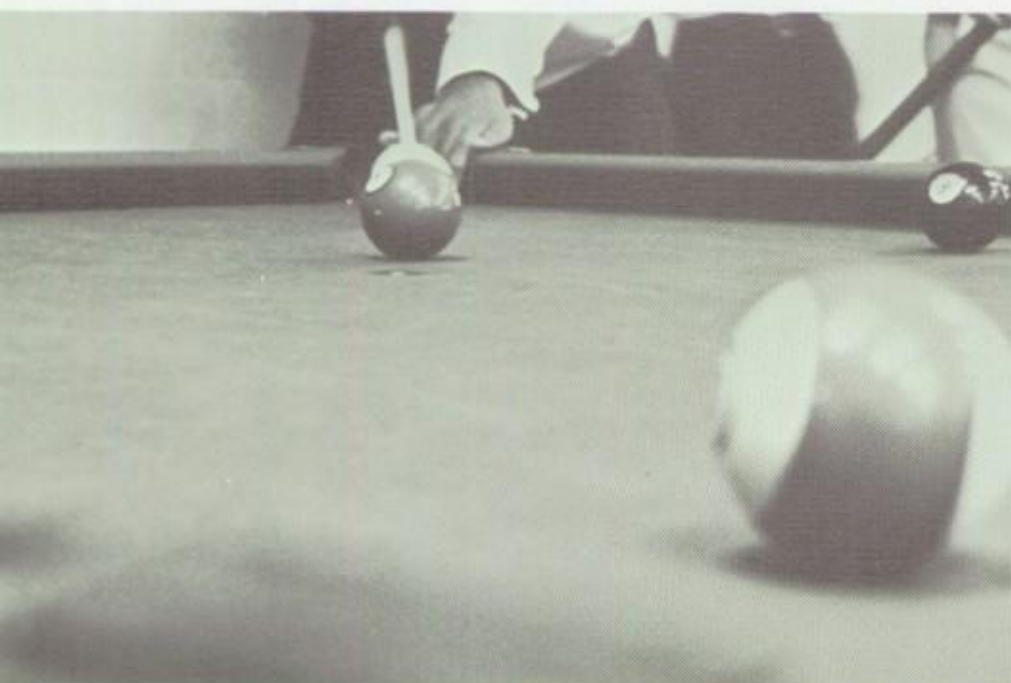

"Now note the form and watch the ball."

"Watch me get that rat next to the ten pin".

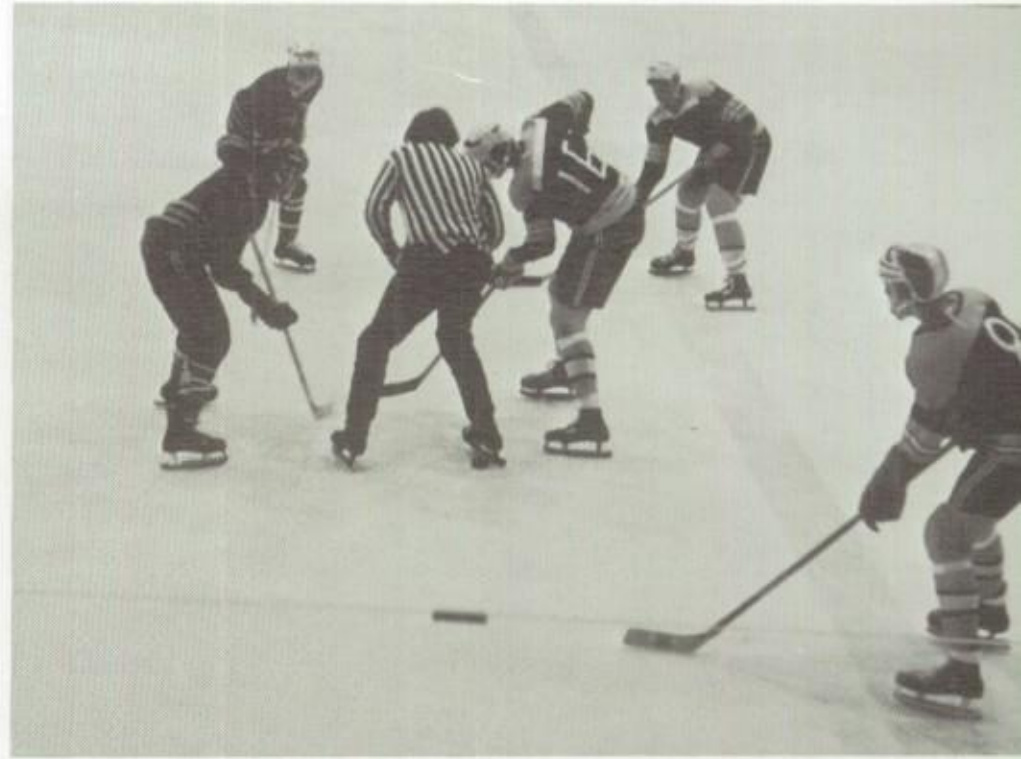

INTRAMURALS

ICE HOCKEY

"I'm gonna wait here until it comes back."

Mankous makes his move.

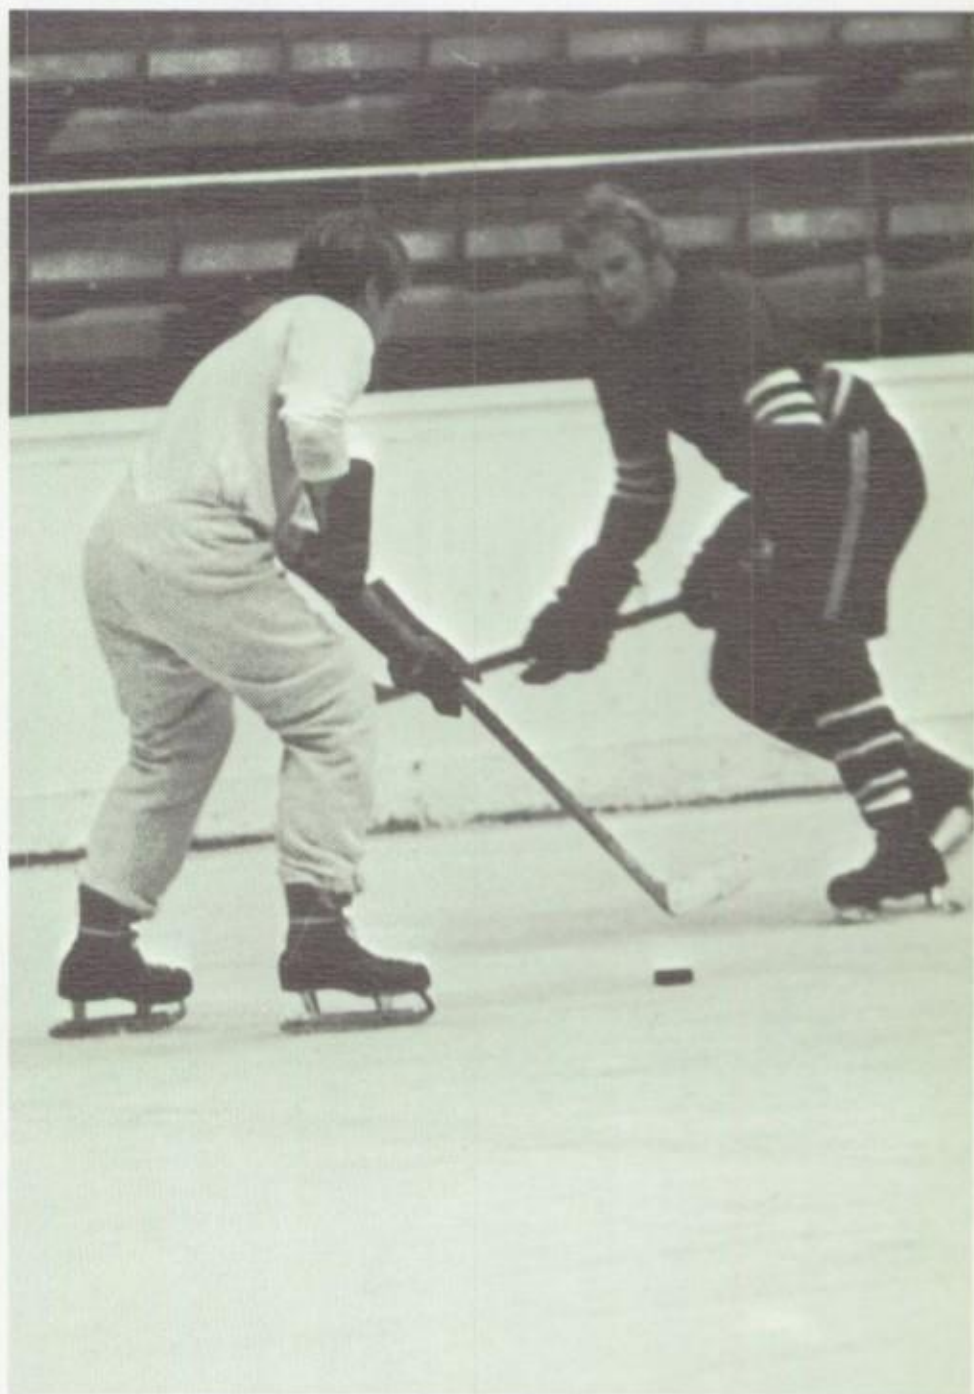

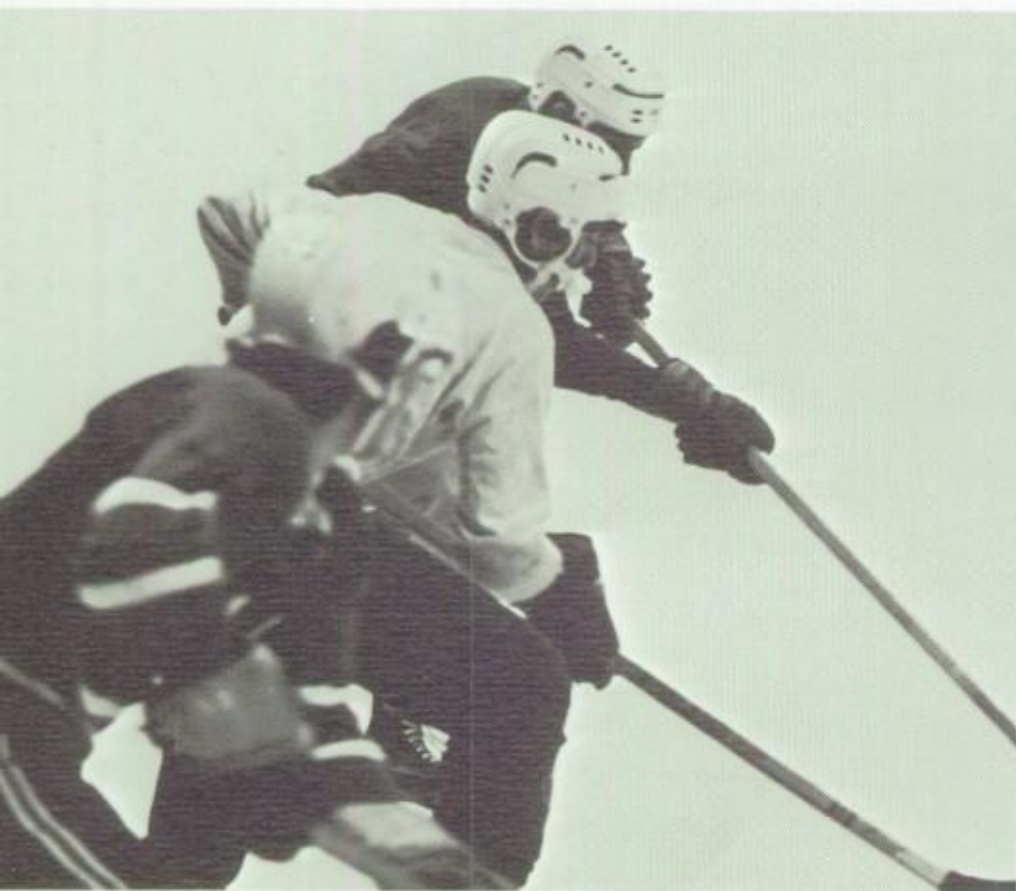

Ruppert steps in for the kill.

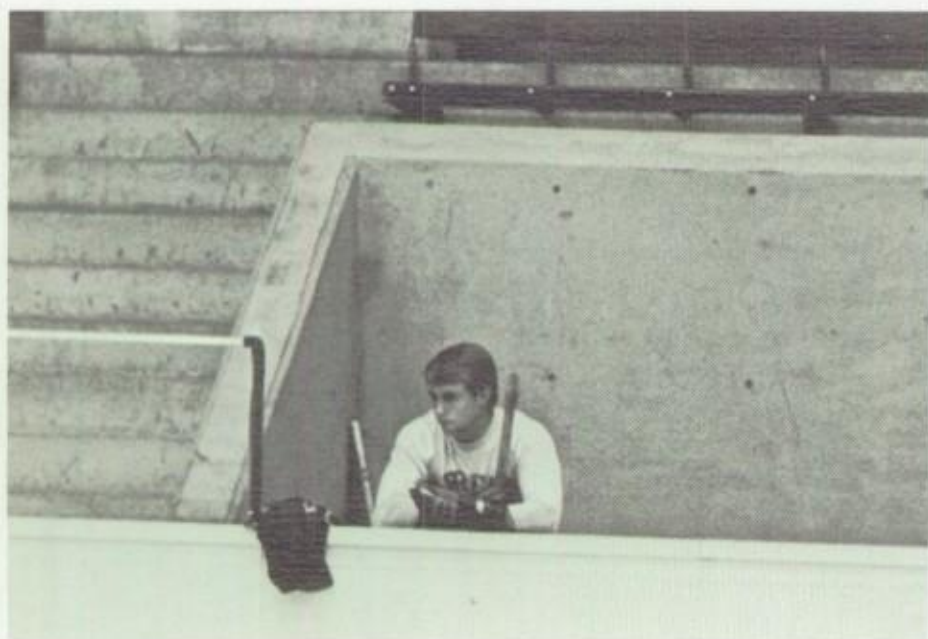

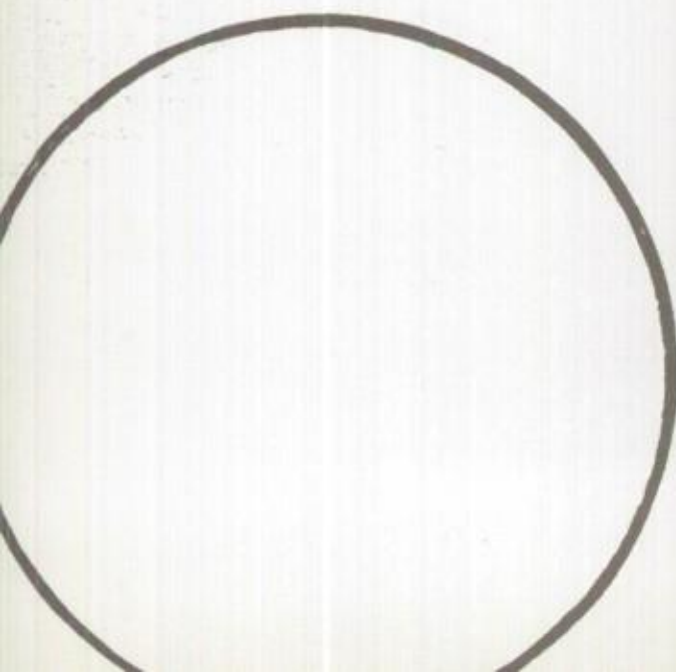

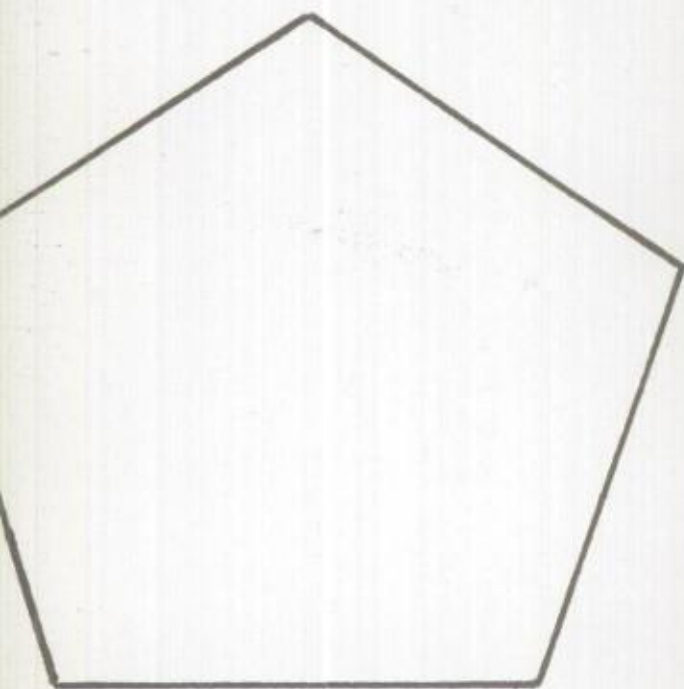

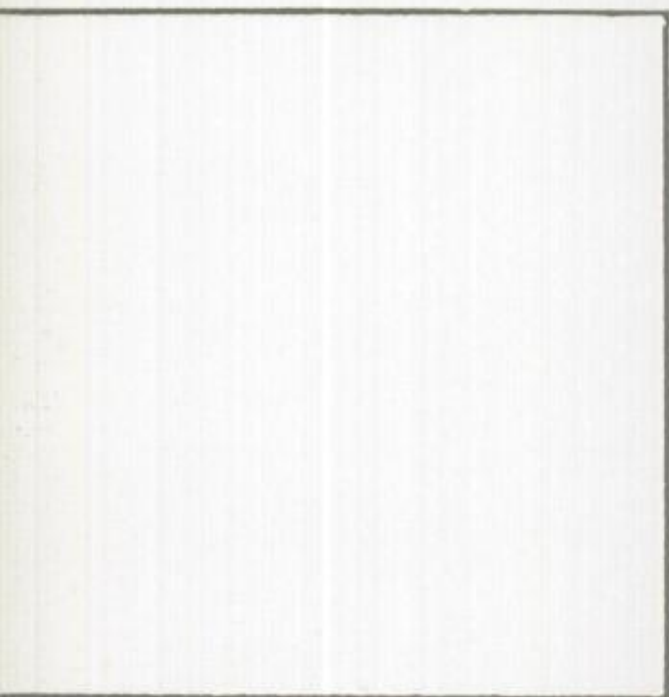

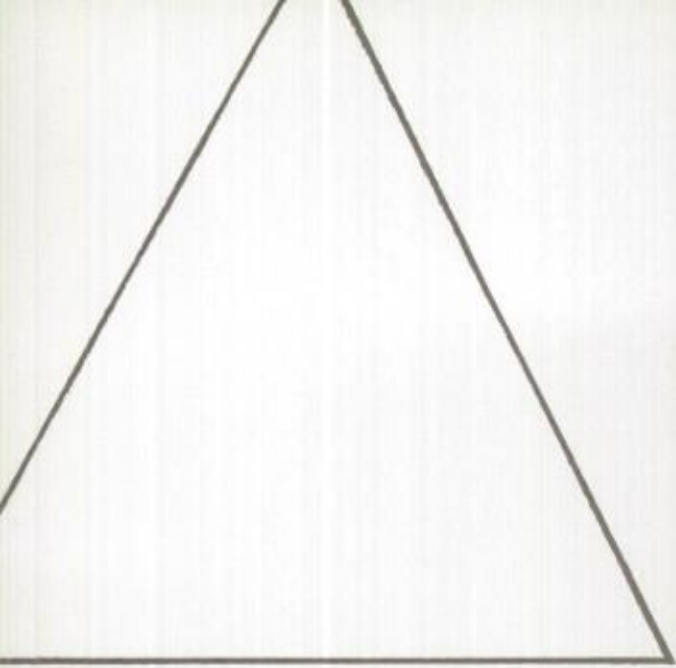

Ice Hockey

Fighting a financial barrier its second year in the League, the hockey team got off to a good start this season. With a few players including the goalie coming from schools other than St. Joe's, this year's team looked a lot stronger than the former one. By practicing three times a week during the eight week pre-season period, the players developed potential until the team looked like one of the best in the League. They proved this by gaining a 2-2-1 record for the first part of the season.

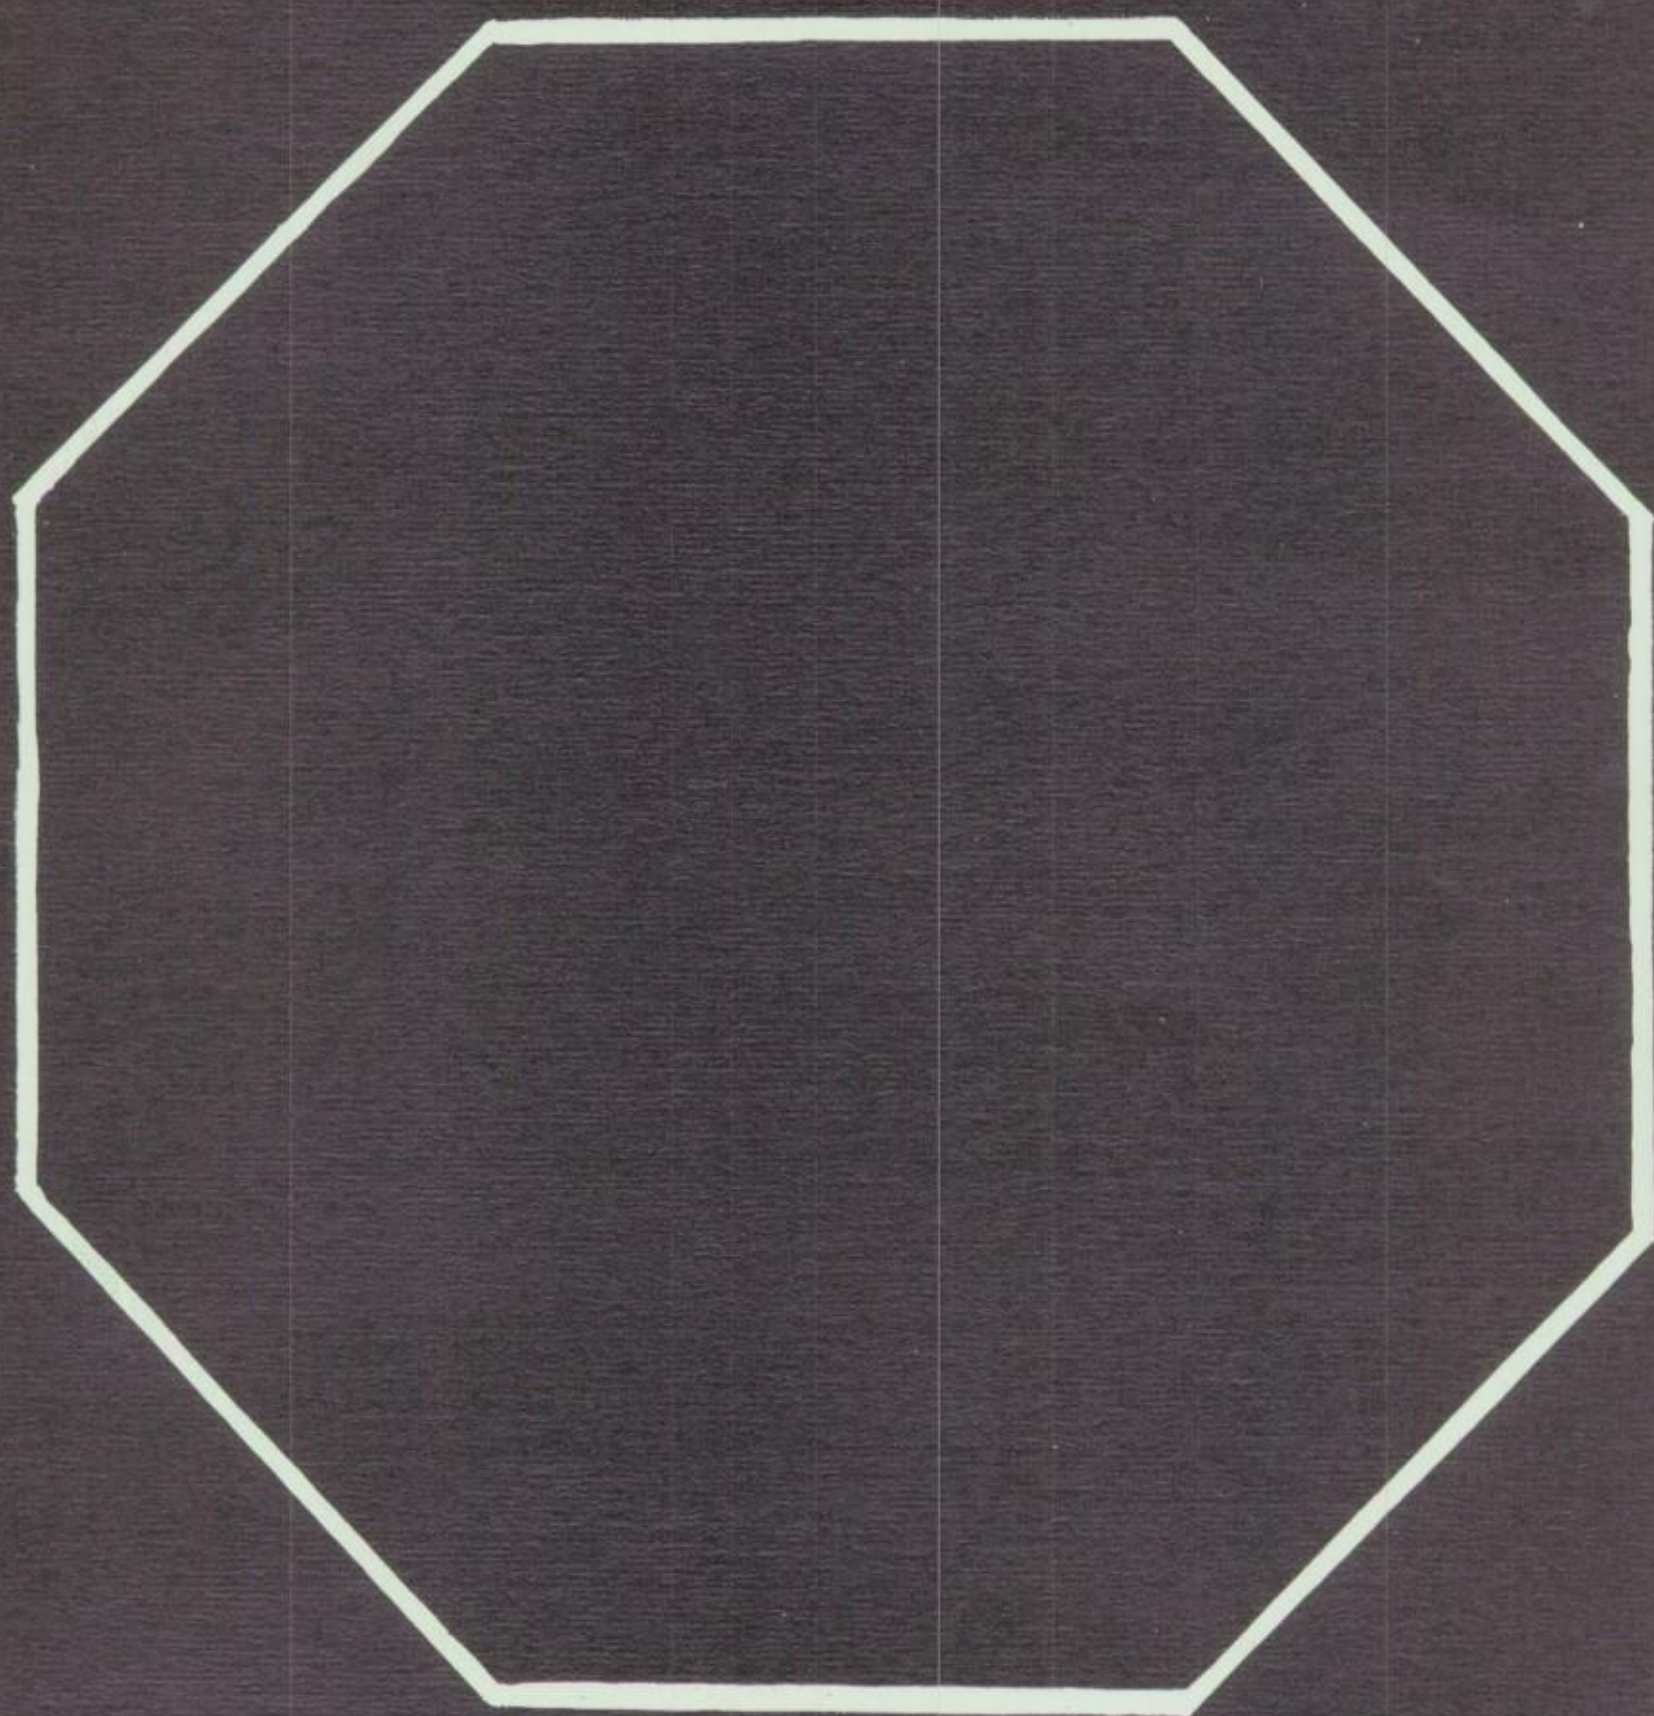

"Get the puck out of here!!!"

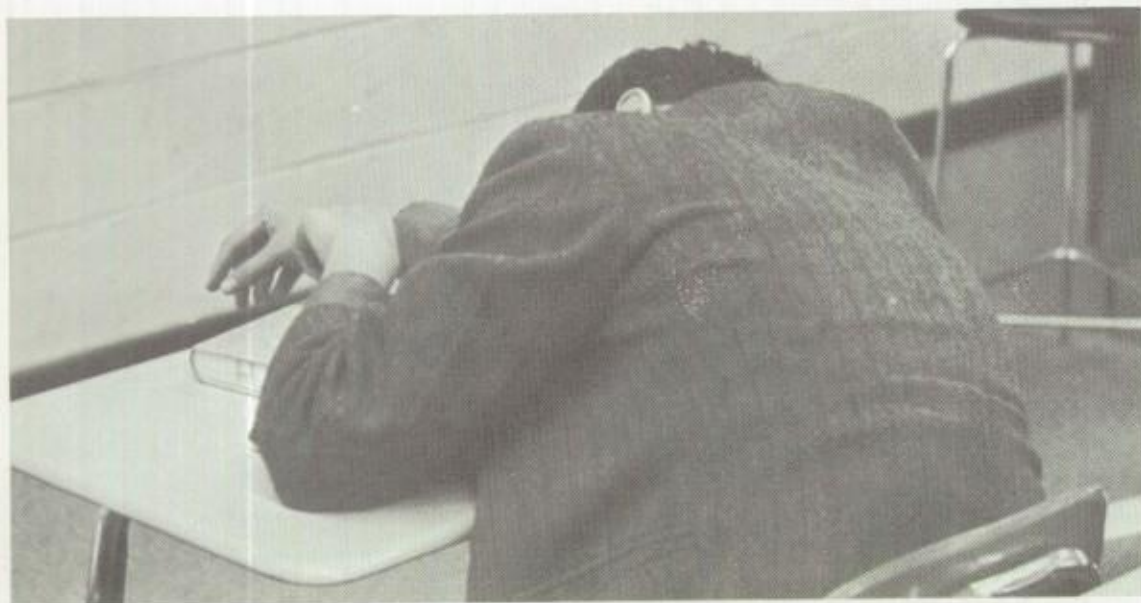

Underclassmen make up the majority of the Prep student body; their support moves the school. This was overheard at a Prep football game . . . "What I mean is that coming to this school is different from anything I've ever done. It's kind of difficult to get along, but most of the time, I find that it's more fun than aggravation. I've been here long enough to realize that the Prep does have soul . . ." These are our underclassmen . . .

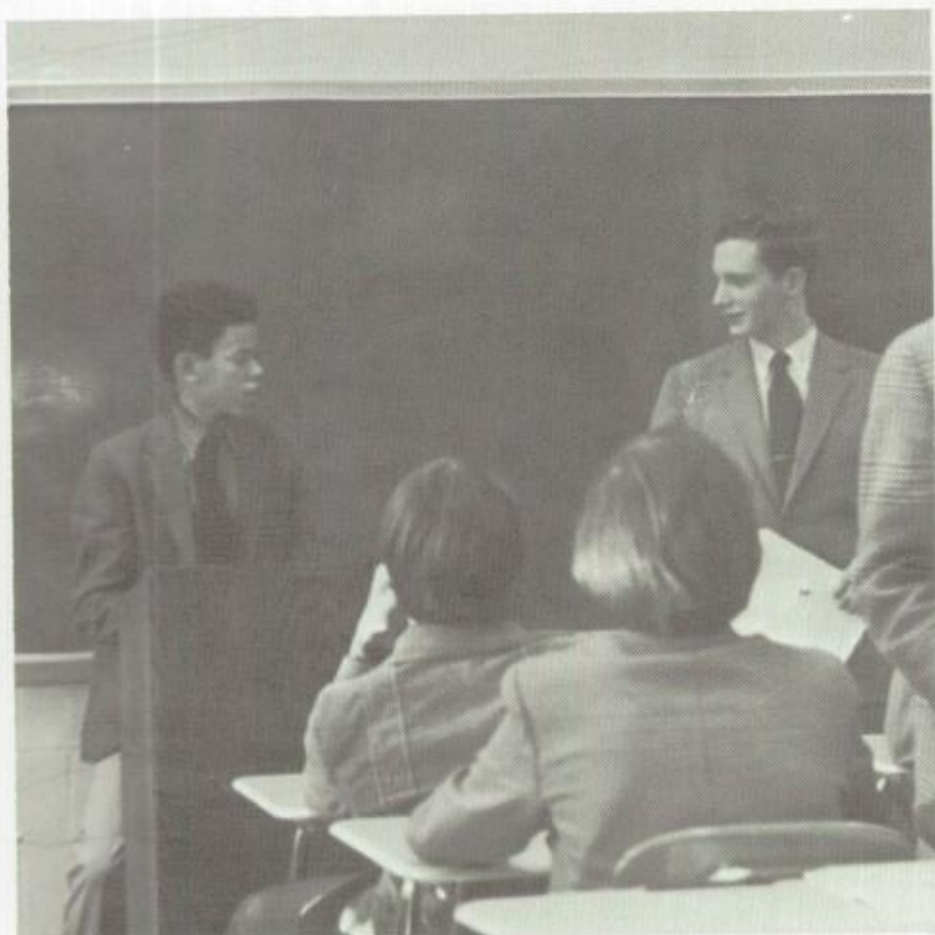

FRESHMEN

FRESHMEN:

"It's very different, Prep life I mean. Well — start with the building itself. It's big enough, that's for sure. I thought I'd never learn my way around. And carpeting in the classrooms too! But there are a lot of things beside the building that make the Prep different. Things like remembering to buy tokens, like Algebra and "The Merchant of Venice", like the Roman game and Ravenhill. I'll admit that the Prep has its own bad points, jug and sophomores for example, but there's one really special thing here. I suppose that it's a kind of feeling, and it happens all the time, especially at a rally or something when everyone's all together. They start — I mean we start cheering and pouring forth our pride in knowing that we belong here. I guess that's what it's all about . . ."

"Nothing smells quite like mildew on Monday morning."

"What do you mean I don't teach here?"

"Drats, Father Garber, snuffed again!"

SOPHOMORES:

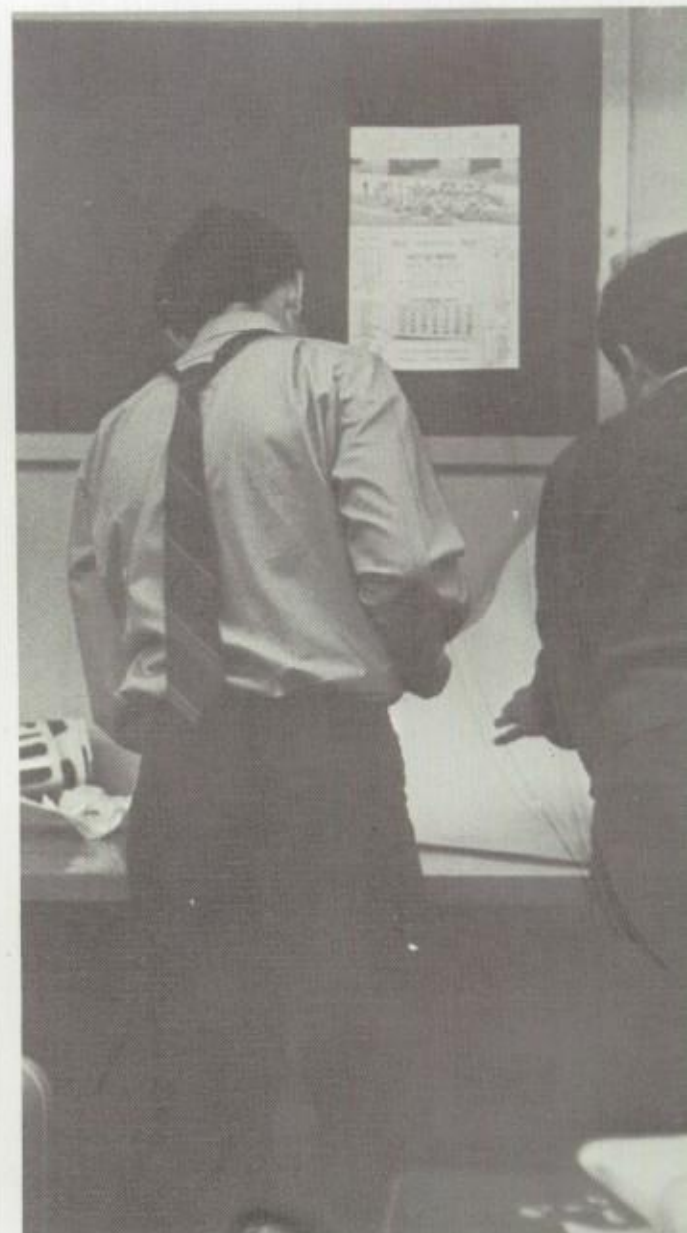

"Been two years already? It sure doesn't seem like it. I guess I know my way around by now. I've made a lot of friends here and I've got a lot of time to enjoy myself. Looking back, I used to be pretty timid — I can't figure out why. But that's all different now. You know what? Juniors aren't that bad, after all, I'll be one in September.) As for seniors, well, don't get in their way, and they won't bother you. But I really can't believe these new freshmen; they're so naive. I know darn well I was never like that last year."

"Do you see my problem?"

ALMOST . . .

We were at the brink of perfection. We knew all the tricks and could play the games. But this time seriousness was mixed with the fun as our eyes focused on college. We went through another year of football games and mixers and participated in all the other activities. And, oh yes!, classes. All of these make us Preppers. But we also did something new. We went to our Prom and found rings on our fingers and woke up and we were ----- SENIORS.

"Mr. Morris! You're not leaning against our wall are you?"

"Look, if you can't take a joke, . . . "

"Higher!!"

What are you, a senior? Can you prove it? I don't particularly care to know what you did. I want to know what you are. This school has helped to make you what you are. This, your school, will soon be a memory, and memories fade. But you are real and your soul is forever. St. Joe's Prep is now a yesterday, and tomorrow is the very first day of the rest of your life.

Seniors ... The force which brought them together must eventually disperse them ... the Prep.

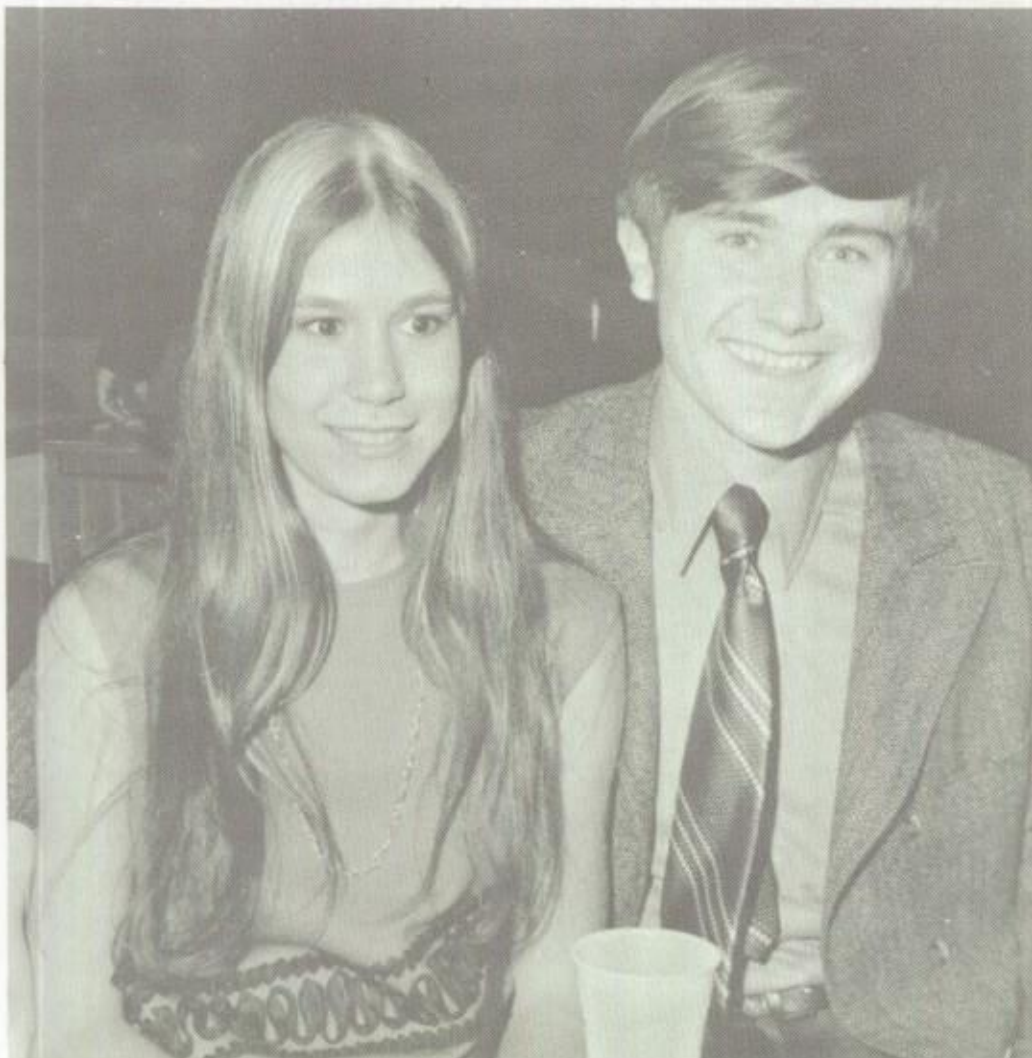

"And in this pocket . . . "

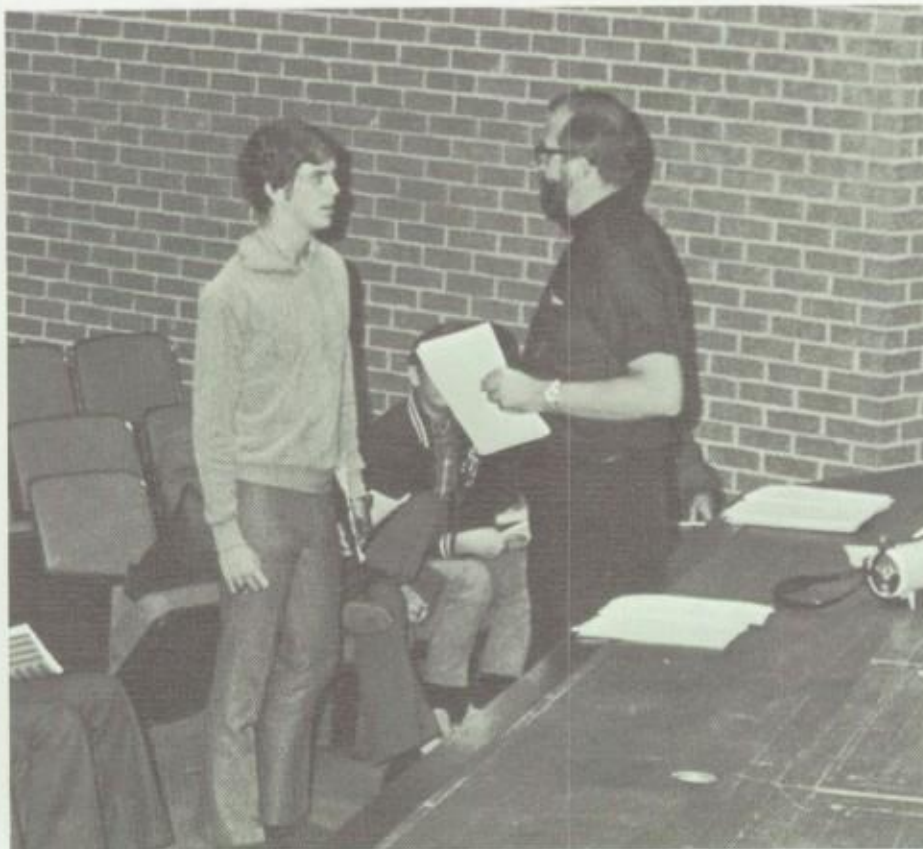

Editor and staff.

Doc and his better half.

"Now let me teach you how to write"

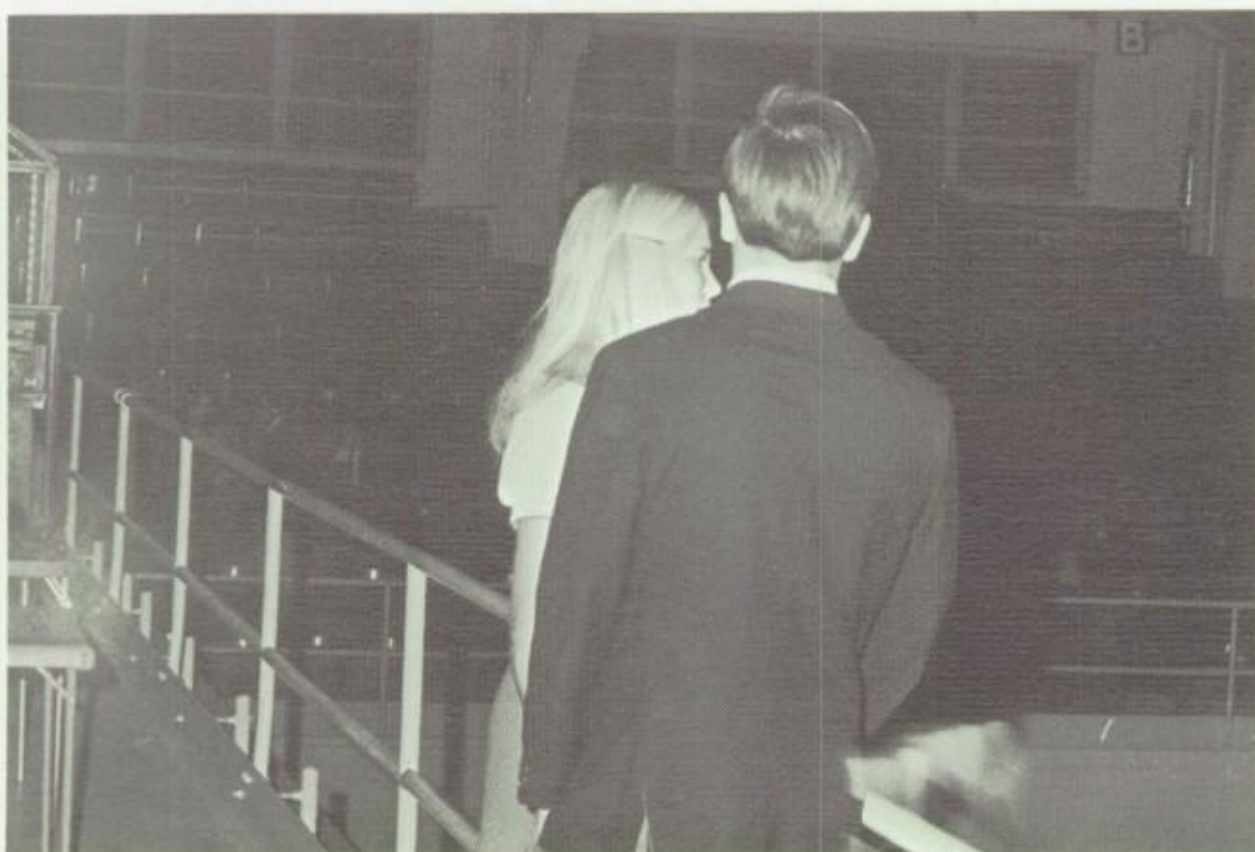

"Would you believe me, Father, if I said I was really sorry?"

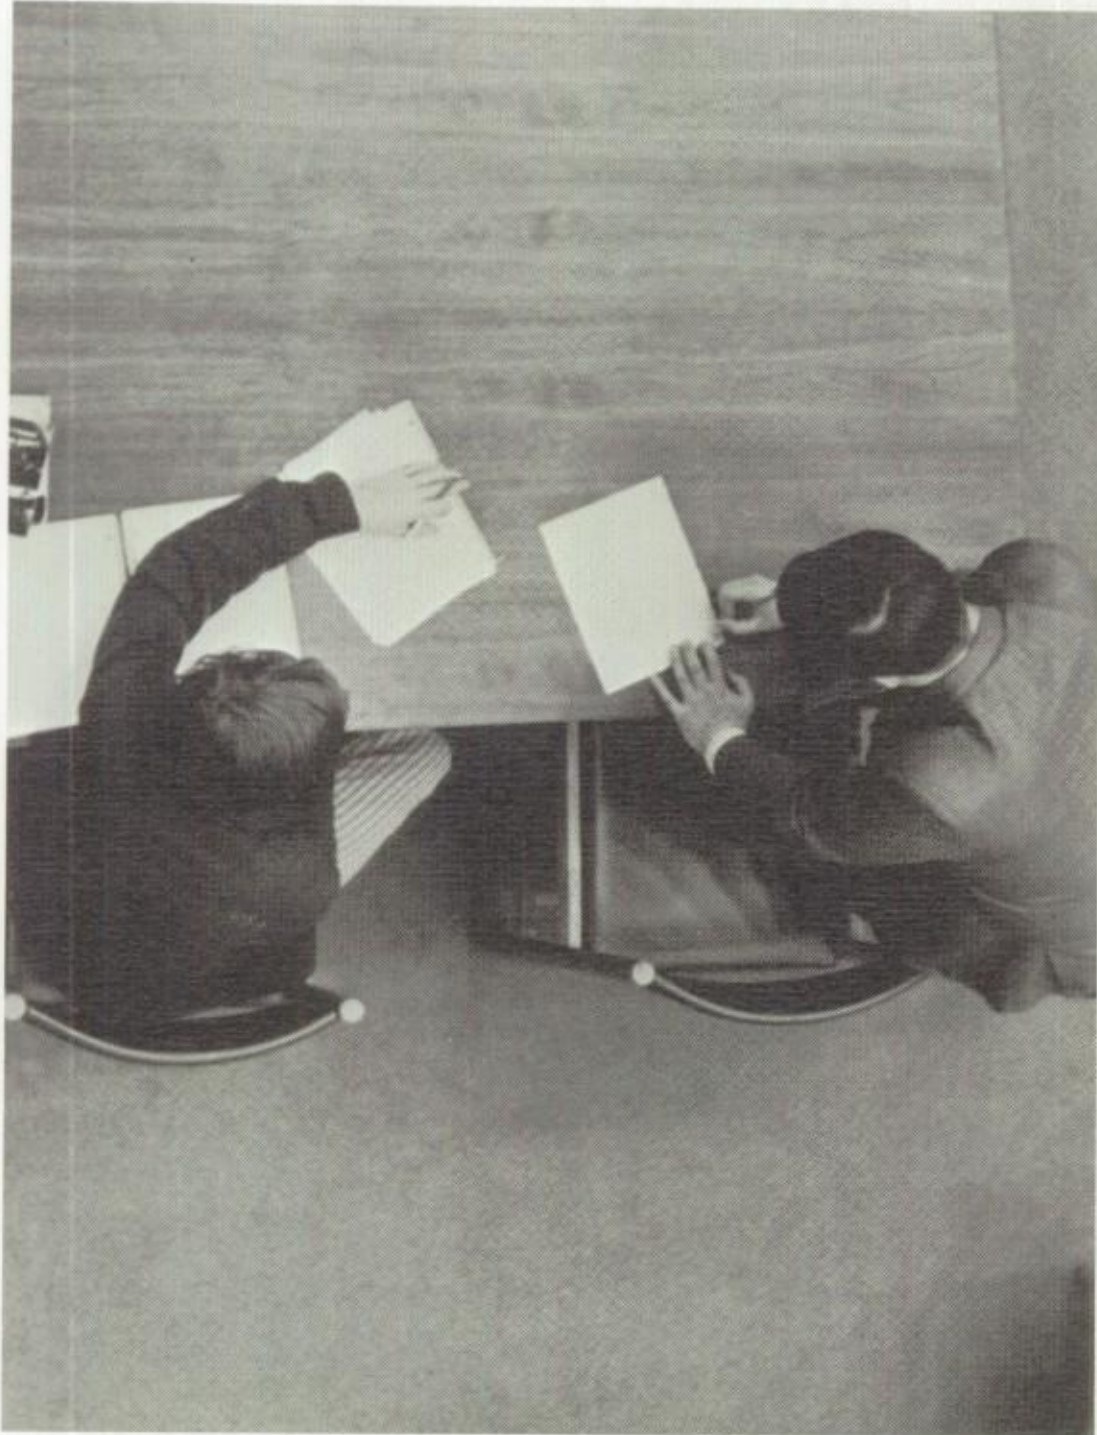

"... and dark mist clouded both eyes ..."

ique."

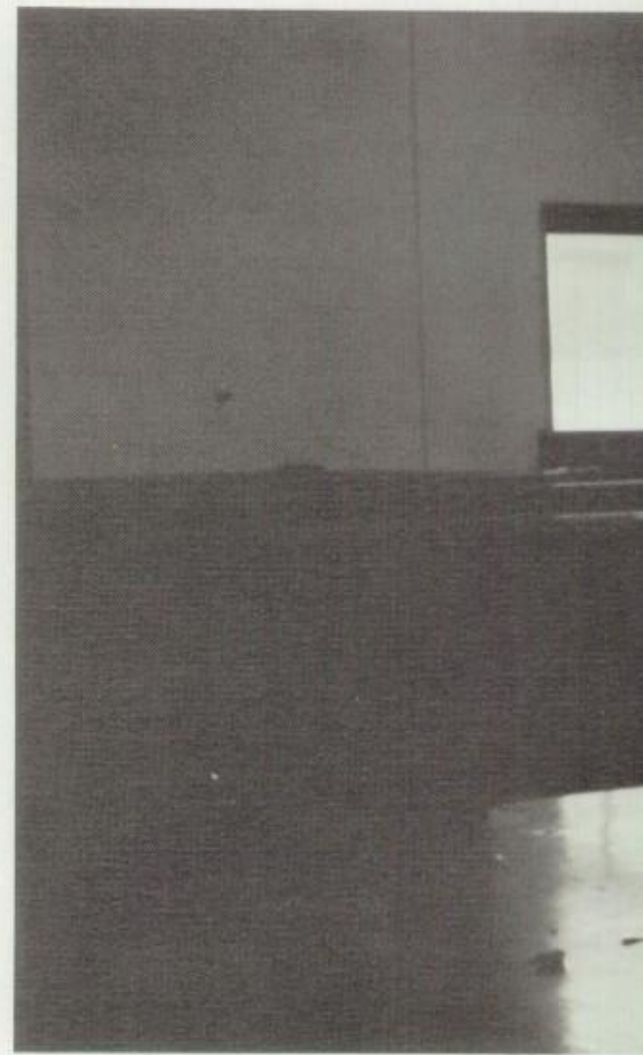

"... imagine that!"

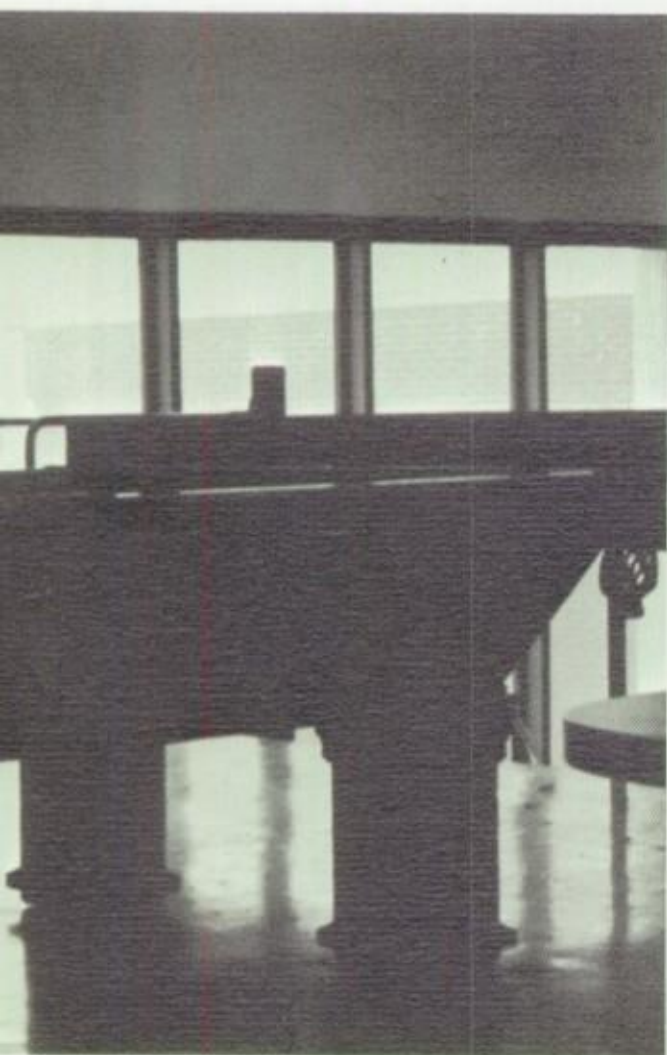

"Let's get these back to the A-V Room."

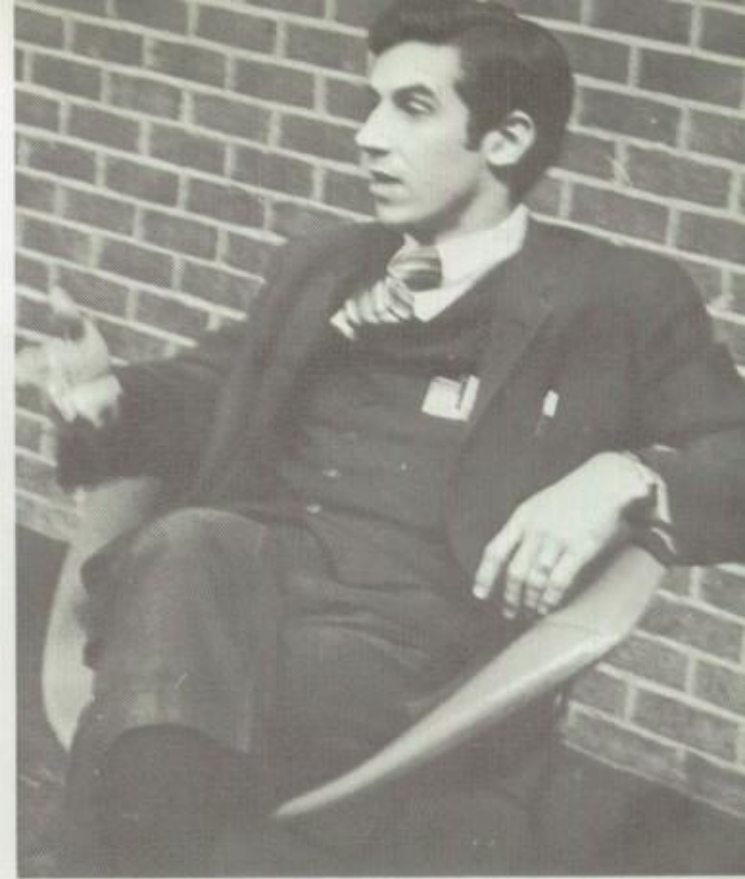

Moose blows another one.

"And with my bare hand, I split 3 solid oak boards . . ."

"That's right, closed for the year!"

That desk just moved.

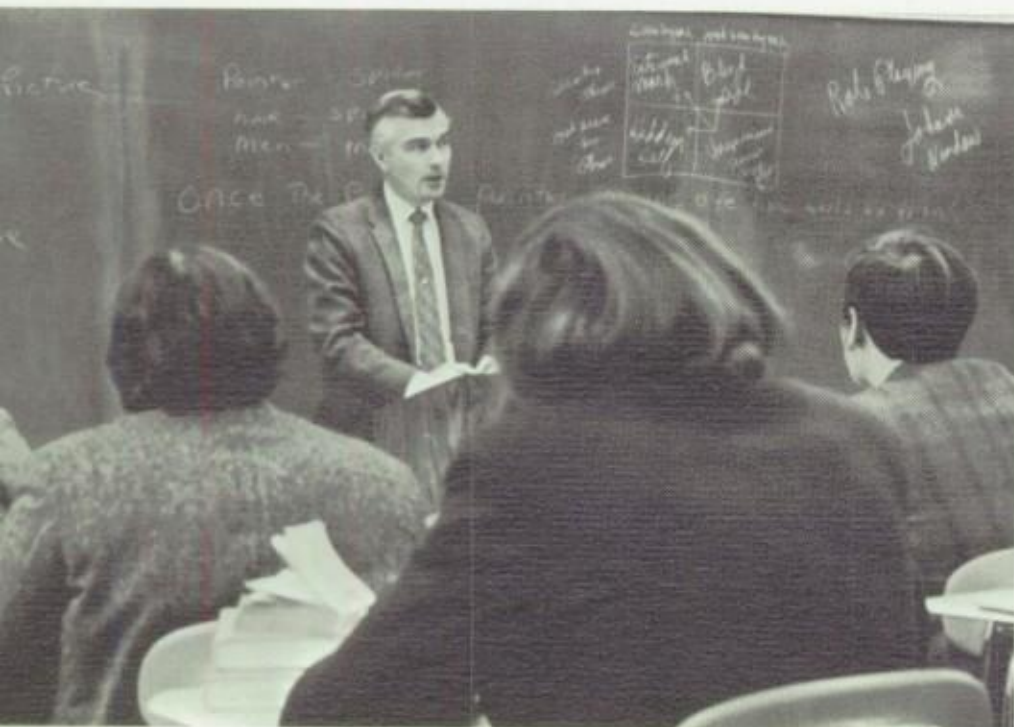

Love means taking tickets together.

"What can you say about a 25 year old girl who died.?"

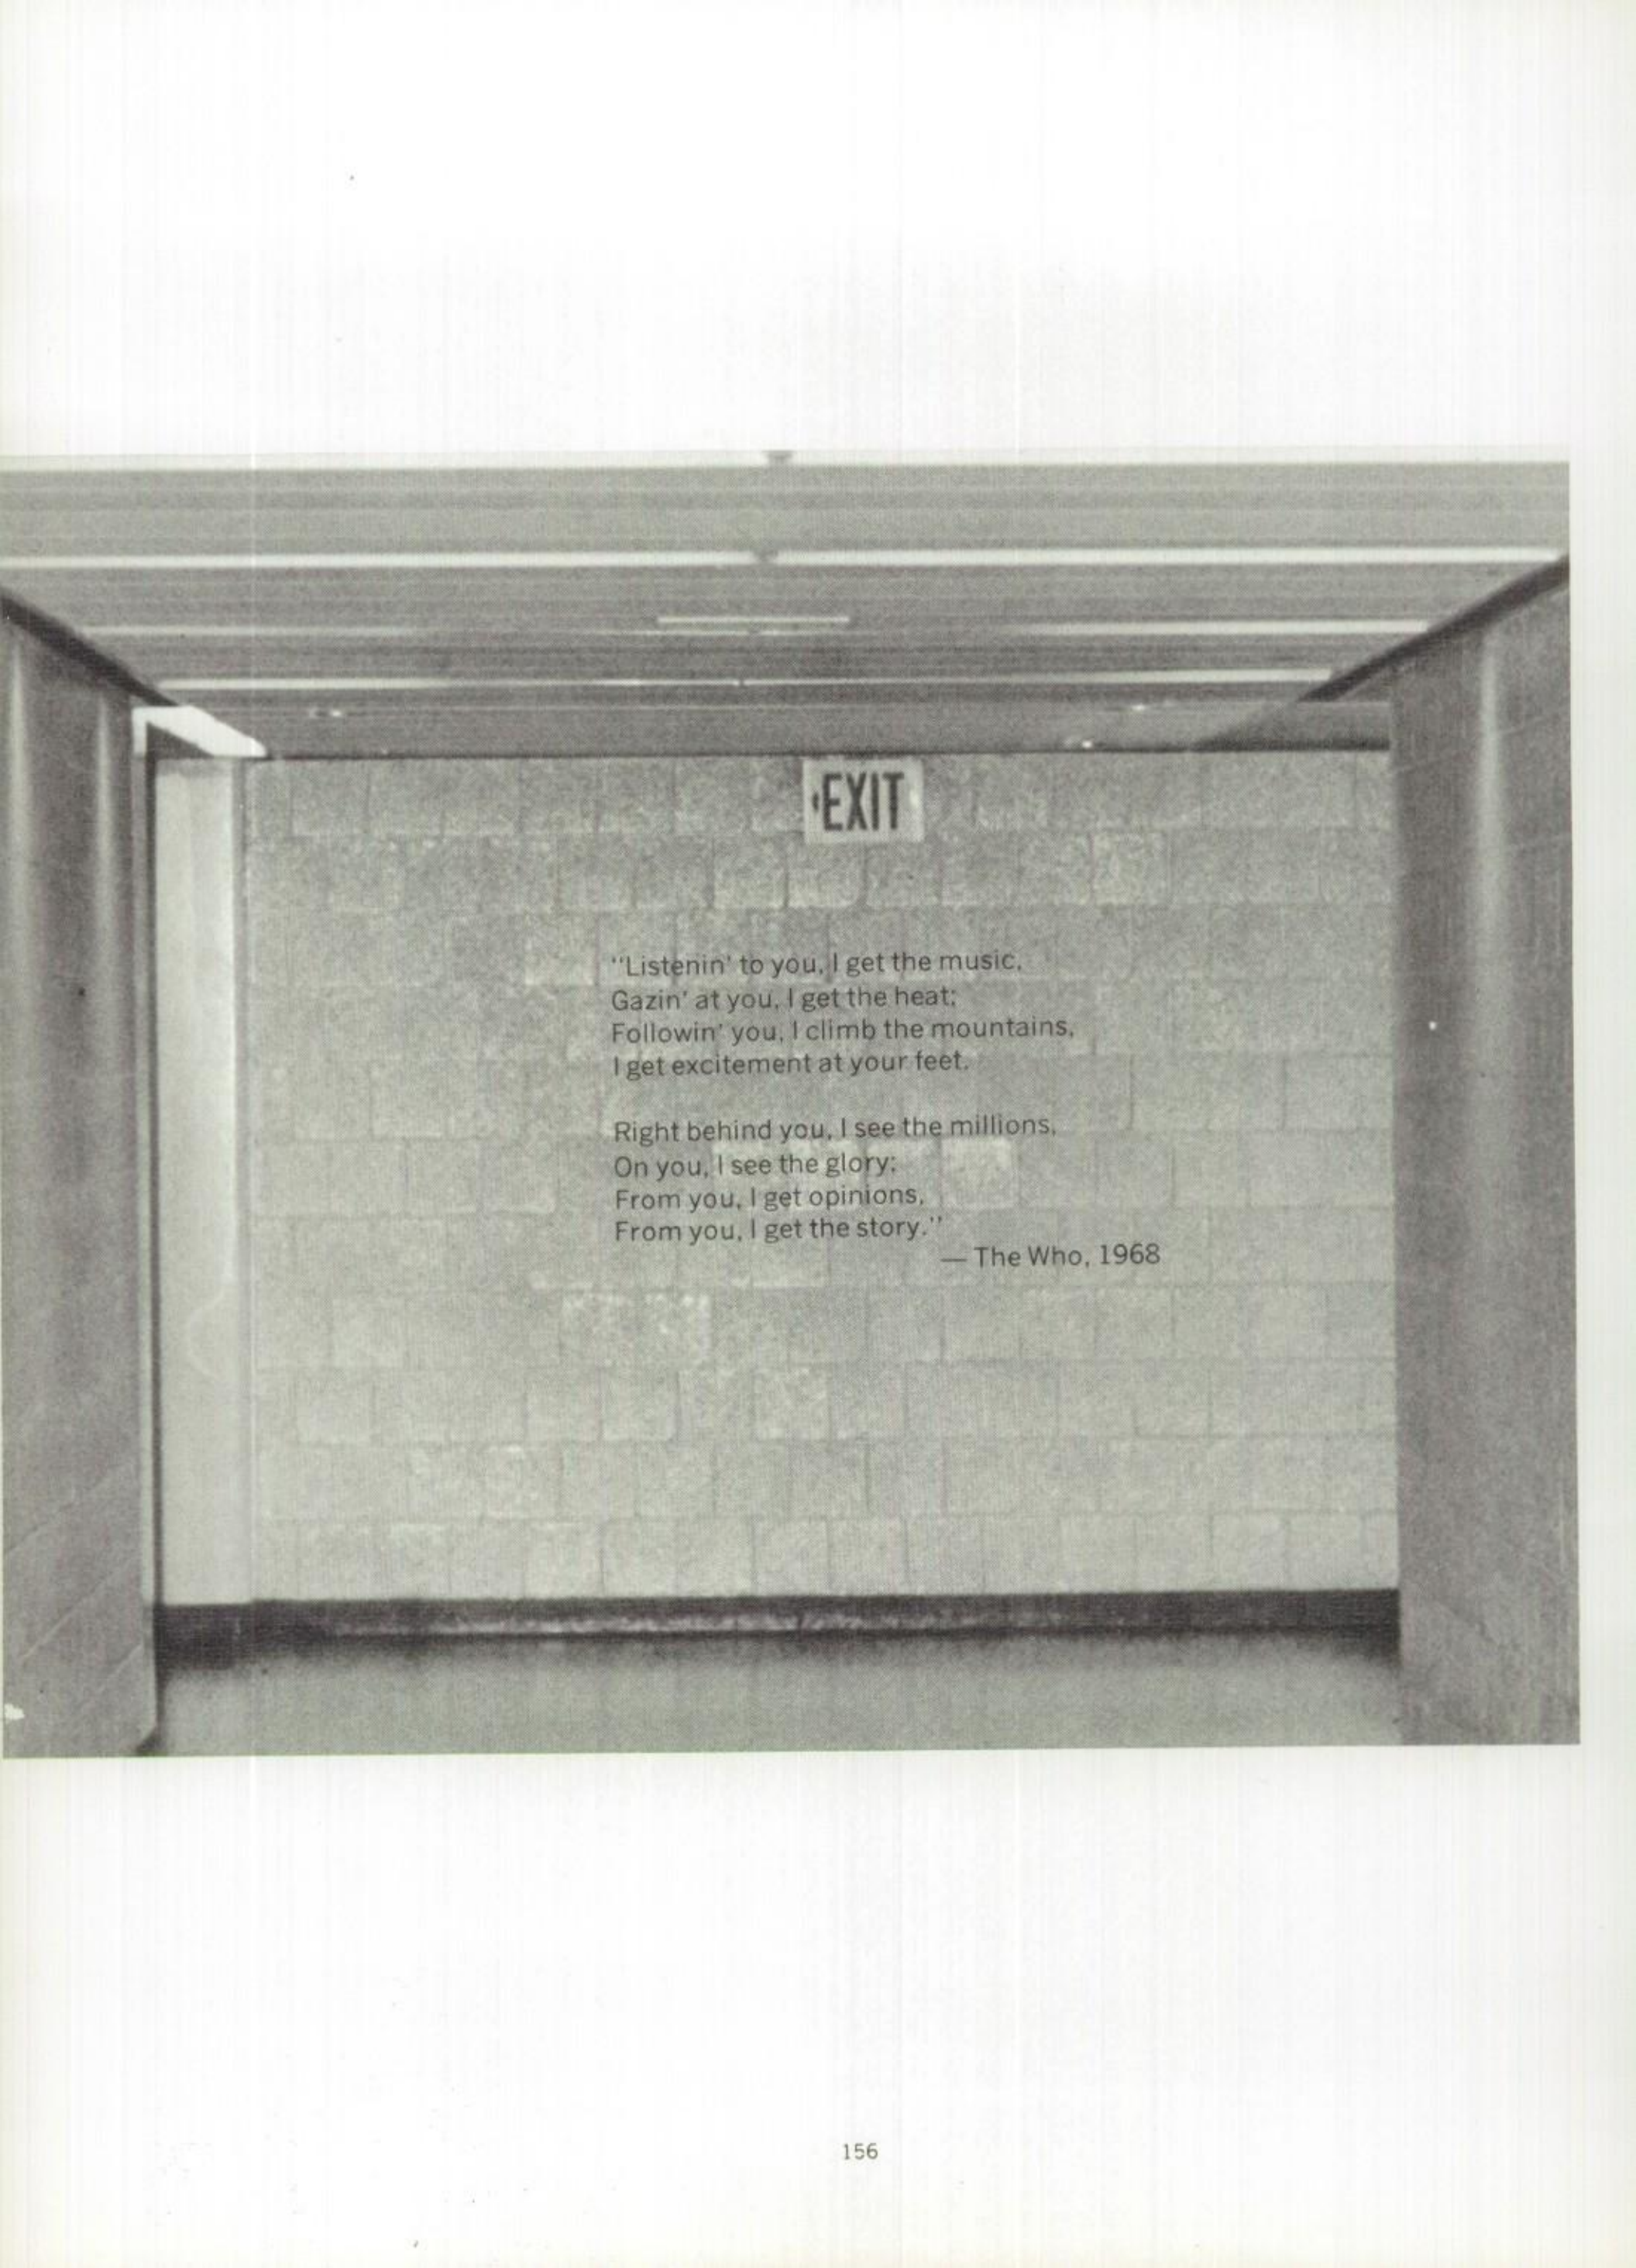

"Doesn't this Chick ever shut-up?"

"And I walked in with the bimbo of my life."

EXIT

"Listenin' to you, I get the music,
Gazin' at you, I get the heat;
Followin' you, I climb the mountains,
I get excitement at your feet.

Right behind you, I see the millions,
On you, I see the glory;
From you, I get opinions,
From you, I get the story."
